[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. A group of 3 British publications related to American slavery, comprising:

The Gentleman's Magazine: For February 1743. London: E. Cave, 1743. 8vo. Two engravings. (Toned, occasional spotting.) Disbound. With article on p. 93: "From the Memoirs of an unfortunate Young nobleman return'd from a Thirteen Years Slavery in America, where he had been sent by the wicked Contrivances of his cruel Uncle."

[With:] The Edinburgh Review, or Critical Journal. (No. L.) October, 1815. Edinburgh and New York: Abraham Paul and Eastburn, Kirk & Co., 1816. 8vo. (Toned, some offsetting.) Original publisher's blue wrappers (light wear to edges, tears with tape repairs at hinges).

With an extensive article (pp. 315-345) reporting on the Committee of the African Institution regarding the establishment of a Slave Registry in the British Colonies. The article opens, "we ought regularly to have devoted this article to the consideration of the Annual Report of the African Institution, and other publications more immediately connected with it. But the subject announced in the title is of such great importance, and so urgently pressed upon our attention by its approaching discussion in Parliament, that we are obliged to interrupt the usual course of our proceeding and devote ourselves, for the present, exclusively to the question of the Registry."

[Also with:] The Edinburgh Review. Vol. XLII, No. II. New York: Leonard Scott & Co., April 1844. 8vo. (Offsetting, occasional spotting.) Original publisher's blue wrappers (label affixed to front wrapper). American edition. With article "Slavery in the United States."

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Quaker Allen family genealogy in Some Considerations in Keeping of Negroes.

WOOLMAN, John (1720-1772). The Works of John Woolman. Part the Second. containing his Last Epistle and his Other Writings. Philadelphia: Joseph Crukshank, 1774.

8vo. Manuscript genealogy notes. (Heavy toning, spotting.) Modern brown cloth with leatherette spine label. Provenance: The Allen Family (extensive manuscript notes).

Collected works of early abolitionist and Quaker John Woolman. The first works collected here are, Some Considerations on the Keeping of Negroes. Recommended to the Professors of Christianity of every Denomination, (pp. 253-274) first printed in 1754, and Part the Second (pp. [275]-327) in 1762 where he argues the abolitionist cause. His advocacy helped persuade the Philadelphia Quakers to officially endorse emancipation and become an important early anti-slavery force in America.

Next to the half-title for Some Considerations is a manuscript record of the births of the 13 children of Joseph Allen, Sr. (1746-1831) and Hannah Iredell Allen (1748-1815), including their fifth child Atlantic Ocean Allen (24 September 1775-1857) born at sea. Page 351 includes the birth information of both parents and the last page (p. 436) includes the inscription: "Hannah Allen her hand and pen the 17th of 11 mo. 1779." It is not specified whether it was mother or daughter, each named Hannah. The Allens were a prominent Quaker family in southern New Jersey. Joseph Senior notably served in Sebring's Company in the Revolutionary War.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. The Anti-Slavery Record. Vol. I, for 1835. New York: R.G. Williams, American Anti-Slavery Society, 1835.

8vo (110 x 175 mm). 12 issues numbering: Vol. I, Nos. I-XII (January-December 1835), each issue (except issue 1) features a front-page engraving. (Toned, spotting.) Contemporary brown cloth (chipping to spine, some soiling).

FIRST EDITION (nos. 1-7) and second edition (nos. 8-12) issues of the abolitionist periodical with engravings and articles illustrating the brutality of enslavement. Includes articles, essays, and poems including a biography of Toussaint L'Ouverture and slave narratives. Sabin 81862.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. The Anti-Slavery Record. Vol. III, For 1837. New York: The American Anti-Slavery Society, 1838.

8vo (107 x 180 mm). 12 issues numbering: Vol. III, Nos. I-XII (January-December 1837), engraving "a poor fugitive" on first page of No. VII. (Toned, light spotting.) Contemporary green cloth (minor wear to extremities, ink spots).

FIRST EDITION issues of the abolitionist periodical with articles reporting on slavery, colonization, "the Right of Northern Interference," slave narratives, and the legal and political perspectives of enslavement. Sabin 81862.

$250 - 350

[MAPS]. Partial map of Burlington, New Jersey, with "African" meeting house marked.

11 x 14 in. linen-backed portion of a larger map, this section featuring the "Plan of the City of Burlington" (heavy toning and spotting, with crease wear and chipping to edges). Landmarks featured include Burlington College, St. Mary's Hall, St. Mary's Church, and multiple Quaker meeting houses identified by notations reading "Friends M House." Notably, one location is labelled "African MH," likely meaning "African Meeting House."

Burlington County, New Jersey is known for its rich African American and Quaker history, being located in the larger Delaware Valley, often referred to as "the Cradle of Emancipation." By 1790, Burlington County had the greatest population of free African Americans of any county in New Jersey, and many African American institutions and organizations began to take shape in the area over the following century including the Bethlehem African Methodist Episcopal Church, organized in 1830 (unmarked as such on this map, but located on Pearl Boulevard). One of the "Friends M House" locations marked on this map, on the corner of High Street and Broad Street, was the site of the yearly meeting of the Delaware Valley Quakers, at which the first anti-slavery tract written in the American colonies was read in 1688. The structure was replaced in 1786, and its cemetery became the resting place for Black watch and clockmaker Peter Hill (1767-1820), who gained his freedom in 1795 and lived comfortably as a free Black shop owner in the community.

$20 REWARD.

RANAWAY from the subscriber, near Rodgersville Tenn. on the 5th. inst. a Negro boy, named BOB, about 19 years of age, yellow complected, stout and likely; about 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high, speaks tolerably quick when spoken to. No marks or scars recollected. It is probable that he will attempt to make his way back to the neighbourhood of Petersburg Va., where I purchased him, some short time since, of William Peebles. We will give the above reward for the securing said Negro in Jail, so that we get him again. Any information respecting him directed to Felix Compton, Nashville Tennessee will be thankfully received.

ODOM & COMPTON.

September 9, 1833.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. $20 Reward. Runaway broadside. Nashville, Tennessee: Odom & Compton, 9 September 1833.

10 x 8 in. letterpress broadside on cardstock (vertical fold in center; darkening and surface staining). $20 Reward for "...a Negro boy, named BOB, about 19 years of age... about 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high.... It is probably that he will attempt to make his way back to the neighbourhood of Petersburg Va., where I purchased him... We will give the above reward for the securing said Negro in Jail, so that we get him again."

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Alexandria Daily Gazette, Commercial & Political. Vol. XII, No. 3676. Alexandria, VA, 18 June 1812.

4pp., folio, 12 x 19 1/4 in. Disbound (toned, minor creases). Contains several advertisements regarding enslaved people, including notices for sale, want ads, and runaway slave ads.

The front page includes a "Wanted to Purchase" notice for "a Black Girl about the age of 9 or 10 years." Also on the front page are sale ads, one for "a valuable Negro woman, an excellent flax and cotton spinner," who was "well qualified and has been a manager of a dairy for several years." Below is listed for rent a "stout healthy Negro man, accustomed to plantation work." Both people go unnamed.

On the third and final page are two advertisements, each running twice, placed by enslavers seeking the return of self-emancipated formerly enslaved people. The first, placed by William Chilton, offers fifty dollars for "a stout black man" named Sampson. Additionally, twenty dollars is offered by the jailor John Fewel for the return of Baccus who "escaped from the Jail of Prince William County." It is especially noted in a postscript that "All masters of vessels is forewarned from carrying away the said slave under the penalty of law."

 The 11th Nov.
 1871
 The 11th Nov.
 1871

By 1837 there was a well-established theatre scene in Louisville with competing theatres vying for business. “N. Cushman” is likely the same individual listed in the 1832 Louisville City Directory with a street address “at Theatre,” though the specific theatre was not identified. The theatre most commonly referred to as the “Louisville Theatre” opened in February 1846, but prior to that time other venues utilized that same name and theatre names changed frequently. An August 1836 edition of the city’s Courier-Journal identifies a “Louisville Theatre, Jefferson Street” while a January 1837 edition of the same paper cites the “Messrs Potter & Waters, the liberal and judicious Managers of the Louisville Theatre....” Regardless of the specific site of the venue for this performance, it was notable for having a “coloured gallery” where patrons of color were required to view performances. A scarce piece of ephemera documenting not only segregation, but also the participation of African Americans in cultural pastimes in the antebellum South.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Manuscript bill of sale for enslaved African Americans “Lonon,” “Grase,” and “Henderson,” auctioned at the courthouse in the city of Raleigh. Wake County, NC, 15 April 1838.

1p, 7 3/4 x 8 1/2 in. (creasing at folds, scattered dampstaining). Docketed on verso.

Anderson Page, a constable of Wake County, “after giving due notice according to Law Dide Let up and Sell before the Court house Dore in the City of Raleigh being sale day to the highest bidder for Redy money the fowling negros to wit a man name Lonon a wooman name Grase and a boy named henderson fo the sum of Eight Dollars....” Enslaver “A.S. Drake” is indicated as the “highest and last bider....”

Auctions of enslaved people were commonly held on courthouse steps, an occurrence that could often result in devastation for enslaved families who were torn apart.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Manuscript bill of sale for enslaved African Americans “Elias” and “Henry,” ages 15 and 12-years old. Bertie County, NC, 14 May 1849.

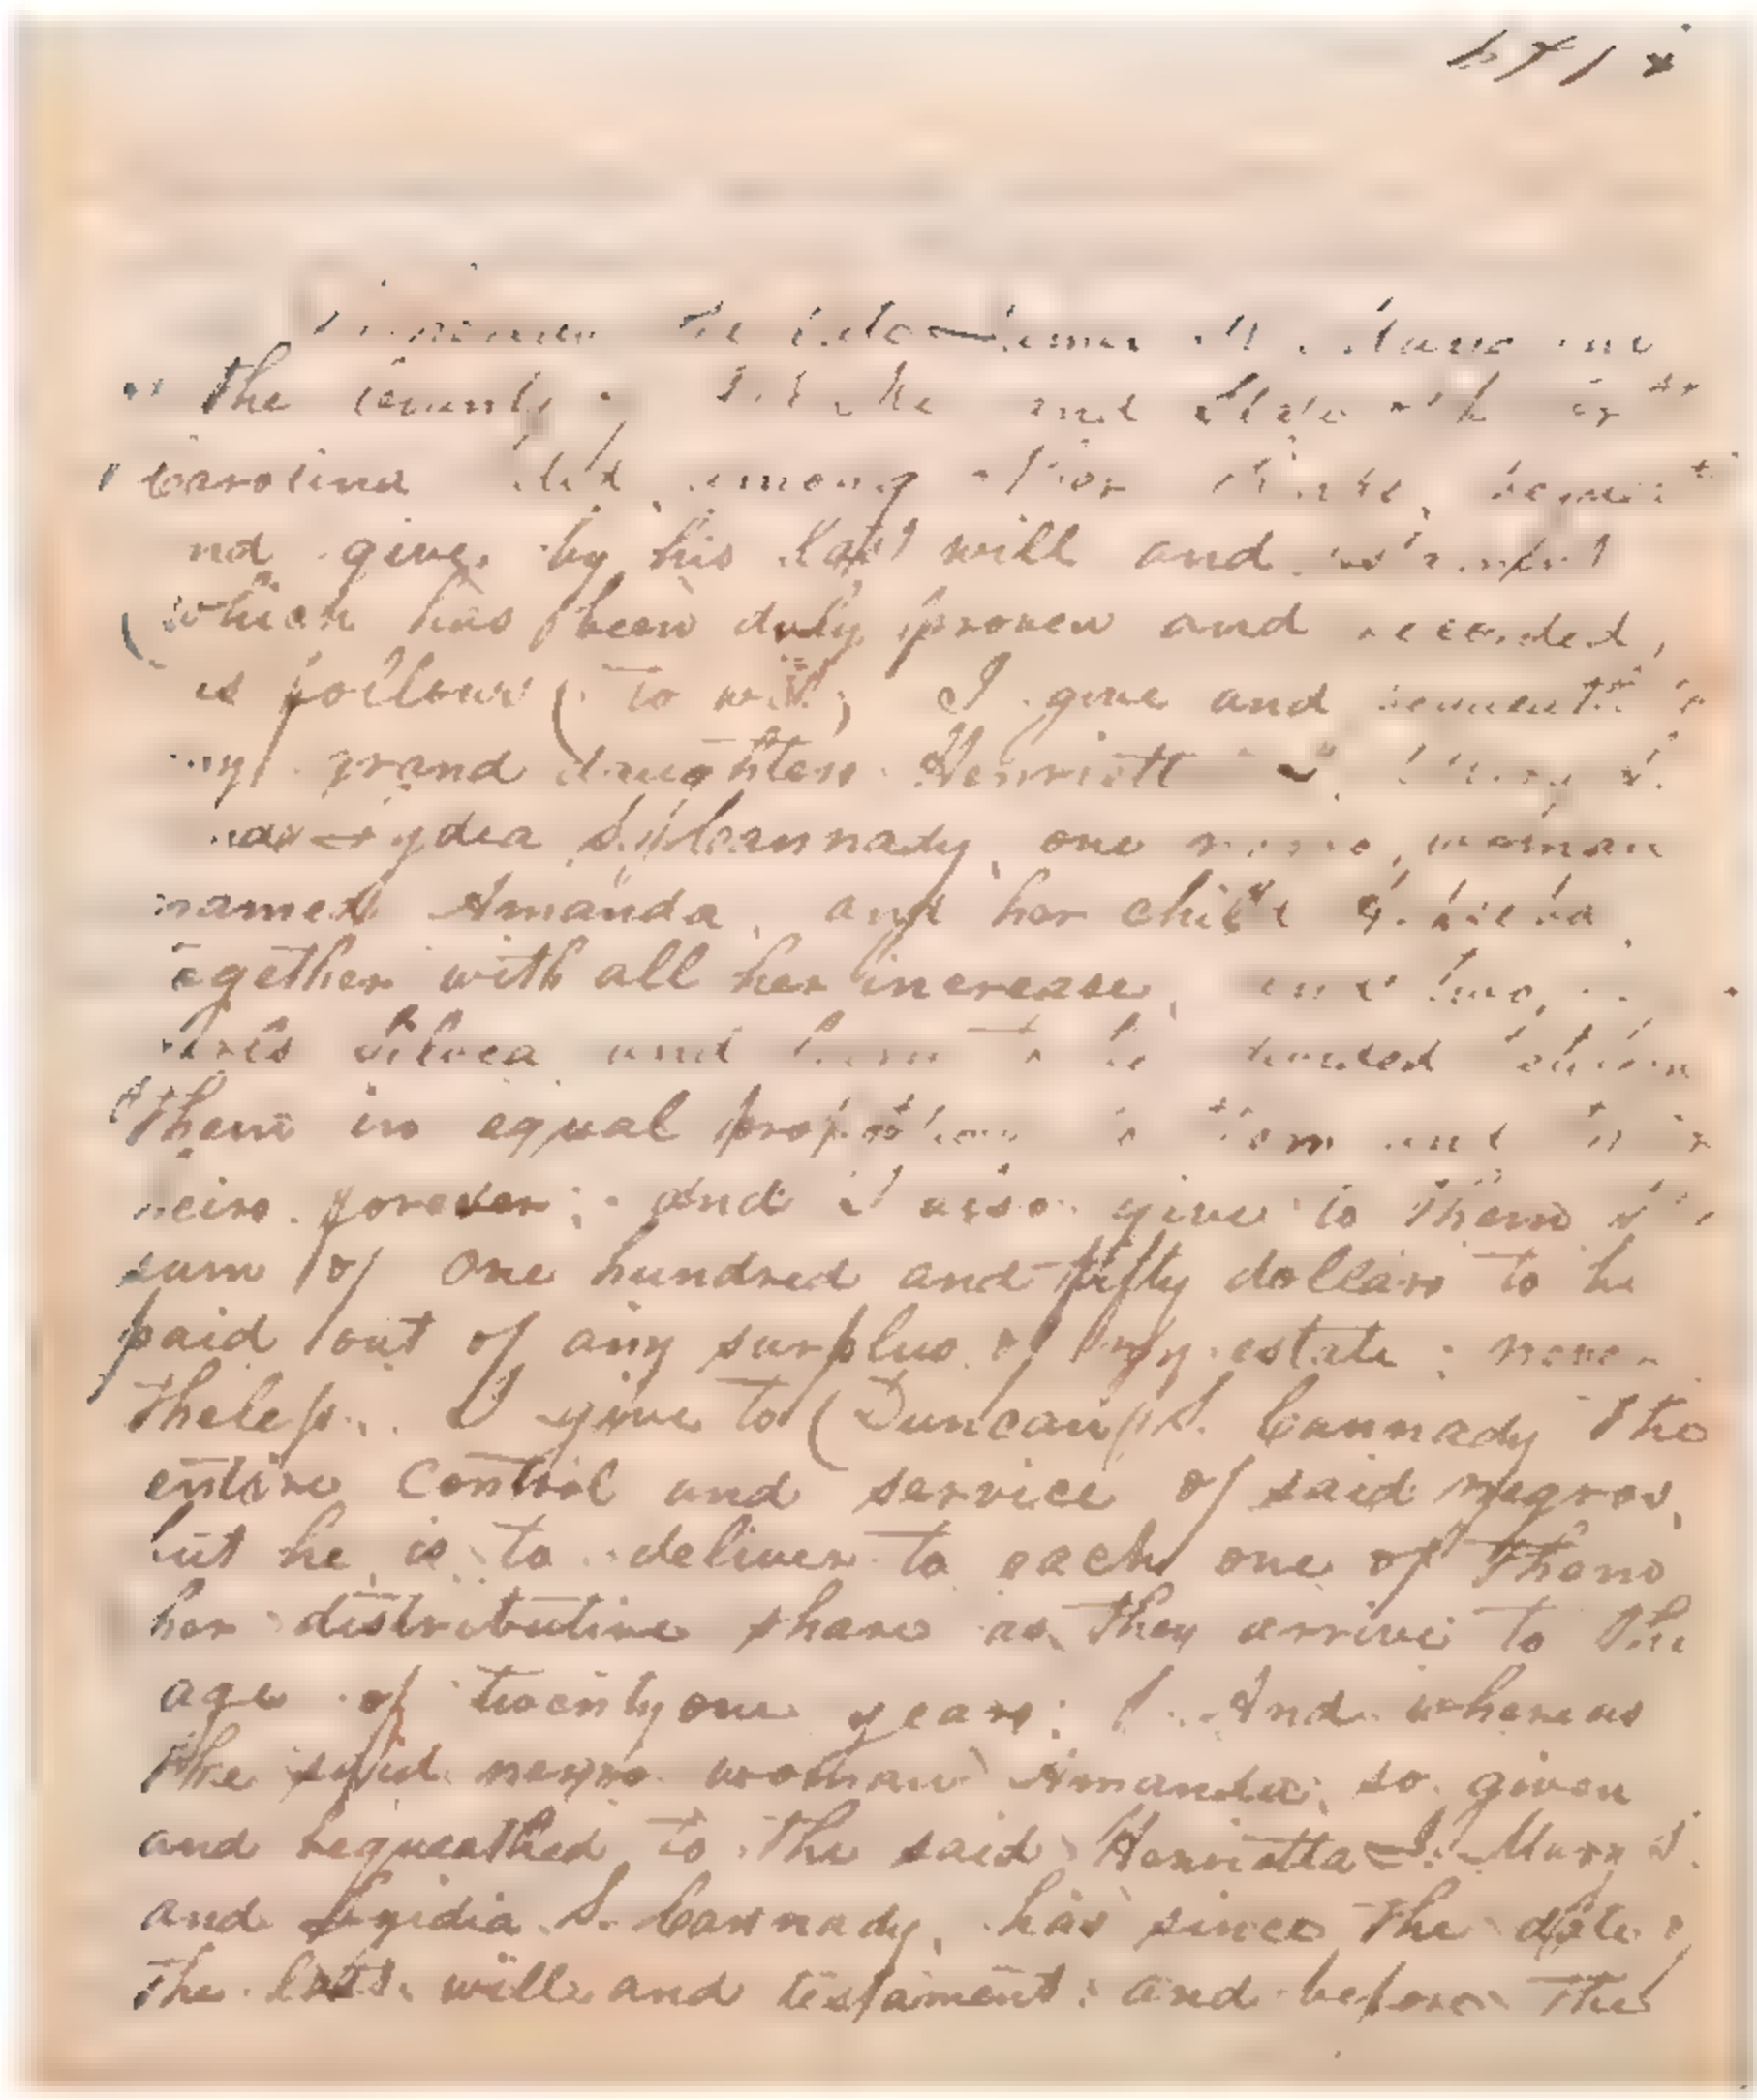

2pp, 8 x 10 in. (scattered ink marks, creasing at folds, later penciled notation at docket).

Two African American children, “in consideration of the sum of one thousand dollars...six hundred dollars for negro Elias, about fifteen years of age, and four hundred dollars for negro boy Henry aged about twelve...” are sold by enslavers “Brooks and Nelson” from the county of Stokes, NC, to enslaver Joseph Jordan of the county of Bertie.

The 1850 US Federal Census Slave Schedule, which recorded enslaved individuals just a year after this bill of sale was inked, documents Joseph Jordan of Bertie, NC, as enslaving 21 men, women, and children. Two of the 21 slaves recorded are likely “Elias” and “Henry” as the slave schedule lists five young men ages 12, 15, or 16.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Manuscript legal document related to claims on the enslaved infant "Elizabeth," child of the enslaved woman "Amanda." Wake County, NC, 1854.

3pp, 9¼ x 7½ in. (toning, some separations at folds). Docketed on verso with endorsements dated 1855.

Document signed proving and registering the release of a claim by the heirs of the late Brig. General James M. Mangum (1796-1854) on the enslaved infant Elizabeth. In his will, Mangum bequeathed to his minor granddaughters "... one negro woman named Amanda, and her child Hepseba, together with all her increase; and two negro girls Silvia and Cary to be divided between them...." The document further indicates that "the said negro woman Amanda ... has since the date of the last will and testament, and before the death of the said testator, James M. Mangum, brought forth and had born of her a negro girl child named Elizabeth which is now living...." The document, which is signed by Mangum's heirs Thomas I. Rogers, John W. Byrd, Joseph M. Mangum, and Mary S. Mangum, releases their claim on the enslaved infant child.

Planter and enslaver James M. Mangum was one of the wealthiest men in North Carolina, owning over 1000 acres and 24 enslaved men, women, and children. He served in the North Carolina House of Commons in 1838 and 1840, and was elected a brigadier general in the 17th Brigade, 7th Division, North Carolina Militia in May, 1842.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Manuscript bill of sale for enslaved African Americans "Edward" and "Jane." Wake County, NC, 14 September 1857.

1p, 8 x 10 in. (toning, creasing at folds, chipping at edge lines). Docketed on verso.

Benjamin Marriott "for and in consideration of the sum of sixteen hundred Dollars to me in hand paid...have bargained sold and delivered to Rebecca W. Marriott two negro slaves, (viz) Edward and Jane...."

Rebecca Jones Watts Marriott (ca 1809 - ca 1870) married Benjamin Marriott in 1843. A Benjamin Marriott of Wake County, North Carolina, is listed in the 1850 US Federal Census Slave Schedules as enslaving 29 individuals, a number which increased to 37 by the 1860 Census. Both Benjamin and Rebecca are alternatively listed in records as "Merritt," "Maritt," and "Mariott."

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Manuscript bill of sale for enslaved woman named “Chany” and her infant child “Edith.” Orange County, NC, 8 March 1856.

2pp, 9 1/2 x 7 1/2 in. (toning and creasing at folds, later pencil notations at docketing). Docketed on verso.

Enslaver John J. Allison sells to enslaver Obediah Page, Jr., for the “sum of eight hundred and seventy five dollars...one slave a negro woman named Chany and her child named Edith woman aged about twenty one years and child about seven months....” The bill of sale further warrants that “...the said negro slave Chany “to be sound and free from constitutional disease or defects.” The bill of sale was endorsed and signed in 1858 by Thomas J. Utley and Hinton Hudson as clerk of the county court and county register, respectively.

Dr. John J. Allison (1820-1910) of Orange, North Carolina, is listed in the 1850 US Federal Census Slave Schedules as enslaving 8 men, women, and children, while an Obediah Page (unclear if Page senior or junior) of Wake County, North Carolina, is listed as enslaving 12 individuals. The Wilmington Daily Dispatch reported in January 1866 that Obediah Page, Jr. (1822-1866?) was killed by his own son's hand after he had assaulted both the mother and son in a drunken rage.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Manuscript bill of sale for enslaved woman “China” and enslaved child “Crawford.” Wake County, NC, ca 1820s.

1p, approx. 8 x 10 in. (multiple pieces, possibly portions of separate documents combined).

Bill of sale of “a negroe woman named China aged twenty six years or thereabouts and also a negroe boy named Crawford about ten [?] years old” to Parker Rand (1793-1876) of Wake County, North Carolina, from George W. Haywood (1802-1890) of Raleigh, Wake County, North Carolina.

Verso with seemingly three different dockets: one indicating an 1823 date of registration in Wake County, the other two identifying George W. Haywood as party to the bill of sale. Though potentially originating from separate bills of sale, each portion relates to Haywood and Rand. While Haywood had a modest estate, Rand was the son of a wealthy planter and was a lawyer. Rand amassed substantive land holdings in North Carolina and Mississippi which were worked by enslaved men, women, and children.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. A group of 2 documents related to the enslavement of individuals in the Carolinas, including a rare North-Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company form used to insure the life of an enslaved individual.

“The North-Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company,” partially printed document utilized by a policy holder for the purpose of insuring the life of an enslaved individual. [Raleigh, NC]. ca 1849-1865. Unused, 2pp, 8 x 12 1/2 in. (slight creases, generally good). Document directs policy applicant to describe in detail the enslaved individual to be insured, and on verso provides space for notes from an examining physician to detail the condition of the enslaved individual. A rare “slave insurance” form demonstrating the capacity of the insurance industry to capitalize on and profit from the enslavement of African Americans.

[With:] Manuscript last will and testament of William Carter, Laurens District, South Carolina, 20 November 1845. 4pp, 8 x 13 in. (toning, creasing at folds). Carter bequeaths unto his wife Martha Carter nine enslaved individuals, “Jack and Liza his wife - Betsy and her three children - Caroline, Essye and John - Diannah and her child Margaret and also my negro man Ike.” The US Federal Census lists William Carter (1806-1845) of Laurens County with 10 enslaved individuals in 1840.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Manuscript last will and testament of enslaver Daniel Abbott, naming nine enslaved men, women, and children. District of Laurens, SC, 30 October 1800.

2pp, 12 1/4 x 14 3/4 in. (approx. 2 1/4 in. tear along bottom at vertical center fold, chipping at edges, light soil).

Daniel Abbott (ca 1755 - ca 1800) was a Revolutionary War veteran whose South Carolina estate consisted of "Eight hundred and fifty acres." His last will and testament leaves to his wife "...one negro man named Titus, another negro man named Quipet [?] another negro man Lewis that has absconded [sic] and one negro woman named Pender and her children to it Willis Fenton [Pinton?] and Isaiah and Zachariah & Alford...." The United States Federal Census of 1800 cites Abbott as enslaving 8 individuals.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. A group of 2 documents related to female South Carolina enslavers, comprising:

Manuscript copy of the 1849 last will and testament of Mary Giles Carroll (1782-1851), as certified by Judge David L. Turner of the Probate Court. Edgefield County, SC, 4 June 1871. 5pp, 7 3/4 x 12 3/4 in. (creasing at folds, light soil).

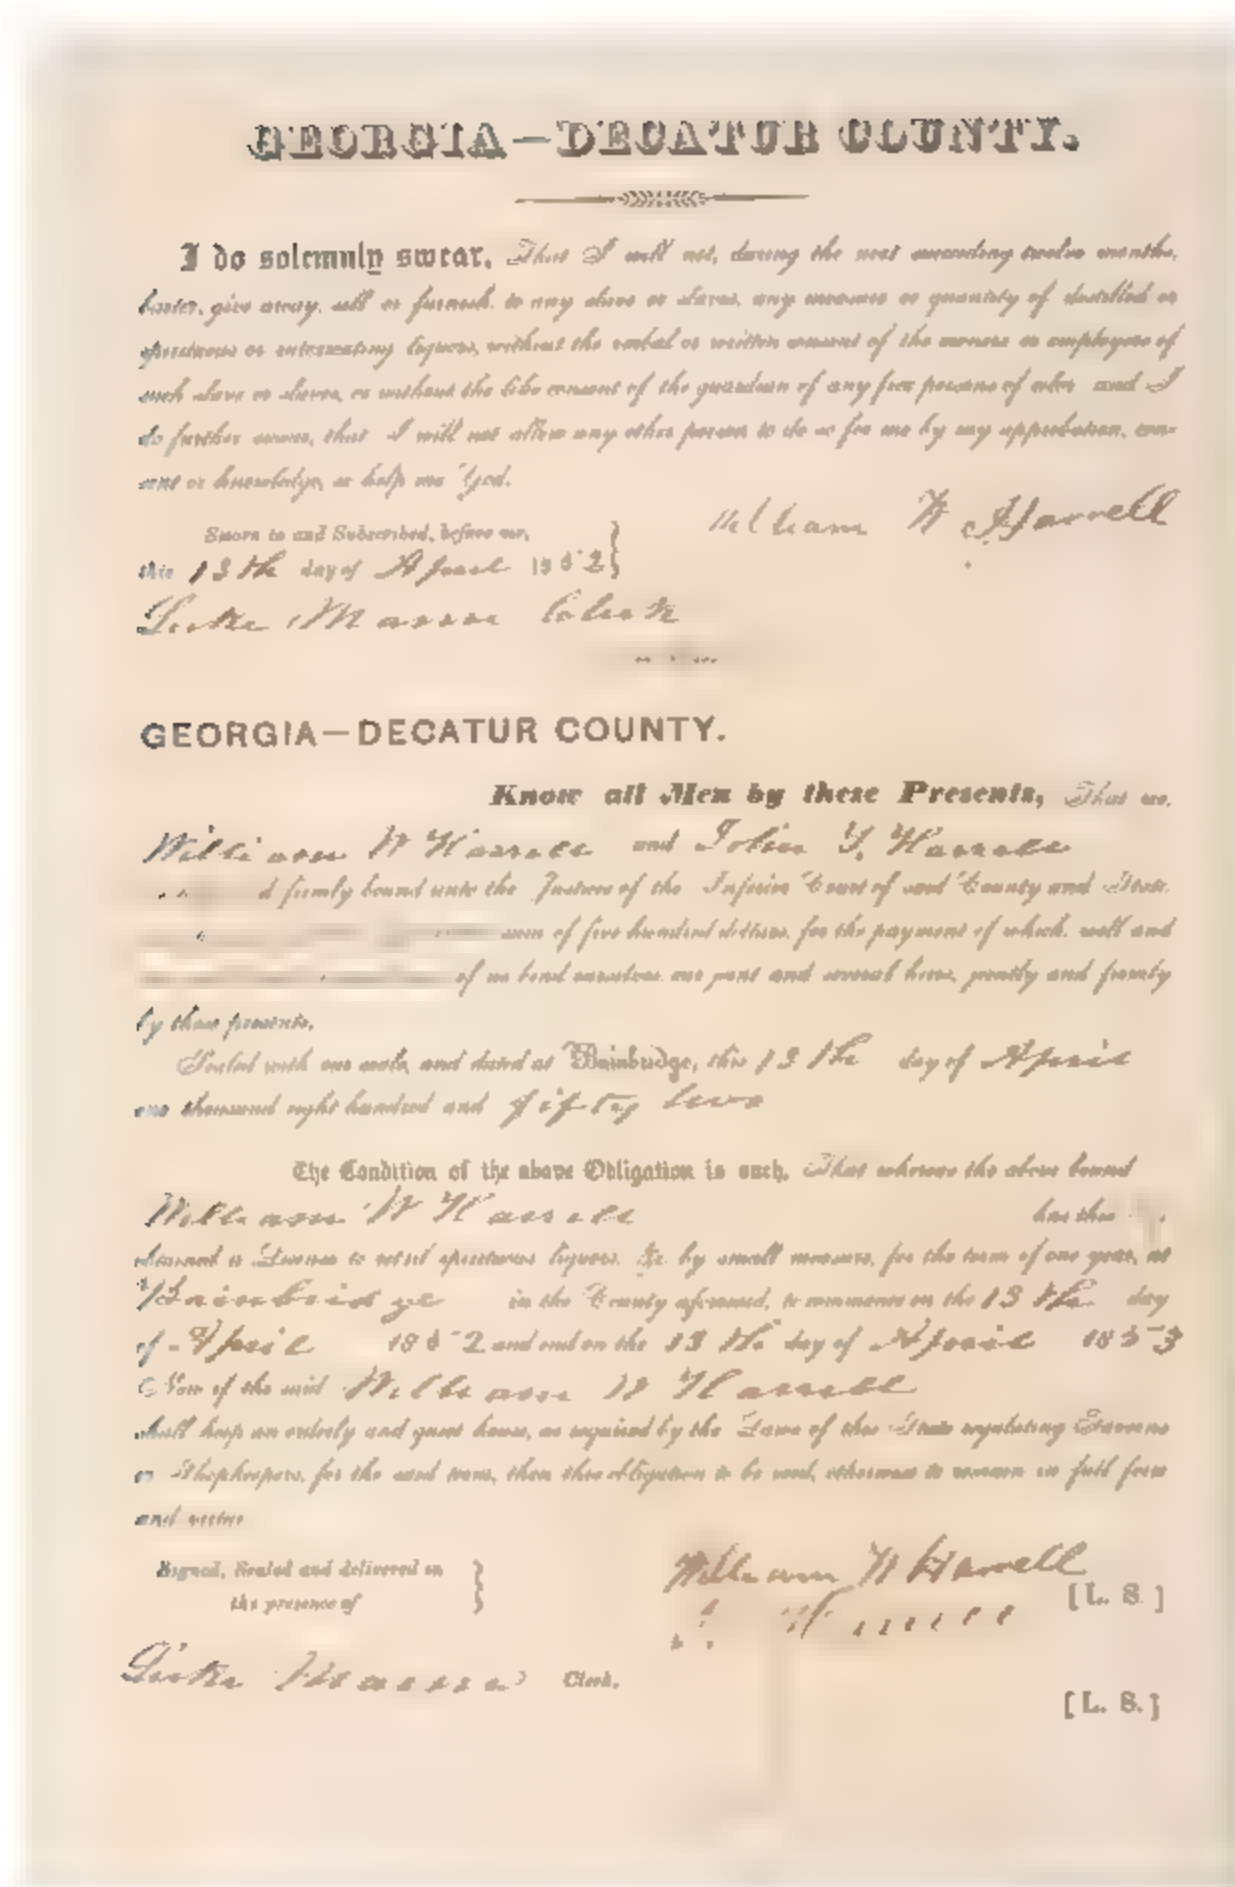

Carroll, the wealthy widow of planter James Parsons Carroll and an Irish immigrant, is listed in the 1850 US Federal Census Slave Schedules as enslaving 41 women and children. In her will she bequeaths to her daughter Elizabeth C. Laborde her "negro slave Sarah and the youngest two children she may have at the time of my decease"; to her granddaughter Ellen Carroll Laborde her "negro slave Jane and her future increase"; to her grandson Oscar Laborde her "negro boy slave Captain"; and to her granddaughter Mary Elizabeth Laborde her "negro girl slave Fanny and her future increase."

[With:] Manuscript "Bill of Sale of property at Nancy Whitmires / Deceased This Feby 3rd 1860" including "1 Negro Woman." [Pickens, SC], [1860]. 4pp, 8 x 12 3/4 in. (light soil, chipping at edge lines, folds).

Estate papers on file with the US Wills and Probate Records include a "Bill of Appraisement" for the Nancy Whitmire (?-1860) estate. The version offered here appears to be a draft bill of sale from the liquidation of the property with the inclusion of a name, presumably the buyer of Whitmire's property, alongside the price paid for the listed property. The enslaved "Negro Woman" was sold to "Carwell Hester" for $416.00.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Manuscript plantation inventory listing 21 enslaved individuals. Marion County, AL, 1849.

2pp, 15 x 12 1/2 in. (ink bleed, creases at folds, modern adhesive repair at folds). Docketed on verso.

“Appraisement & Inventory” listing 21 enslaved individuals by name, age, and appraised value. Appraisers Abram Chapell, Alford Hardy, and W.G. Crawford “doth certify that they will review and appraise the property of the estate of Henry Wilson to the best of their skill and judgement impartially.” List identifies enslaved men, women, and children ranging in age from 50 years to one year old. A note beneath the name of twelve-year old “Lelly” states, “This girl is claimed by Mr. Fossey [?] as his separate property & he objects to her being appraised.”

Henry Wilson (1791-1849), who was deceased just over a month prior to this appraisement, was born in North Carolina but moved to South Carolina by 1820. The 1840 US Federal Census indicates that Wilson was still in South Carolina at that time where he enslaved 21 individuals. It is unclear when and for what reason he removed to Alabama. However, like many slaveholders in the eastern US before him, it may have been in pursuit of additional acreage and corresponding increased profits generated through the forced labor of enslaved people.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Manuscript bill of sale for the enslaved woman “Nancy.” Tensaw, Baldwin County, AL, 1 April 1862.

1p, 7 3/4 x 5 1/8 in. (toning, creasing at folds, scattered blue ink and later pencil notation on verso).

Enslavers “H.J. Davis” and “R.A. Davis” bill of sale noting they “Received from Jos. Silver Six Hundred Dollars in full pay and satisfaction for one Negro woman, slave for life, named Nancy...aged about twenty five years, said woman Nancy we warrant sound in body, and mind....”

The 1860 US Federal Census Slave Schedules identify a large number of men and woman with the surname Davis as enslaving individuals in Baldwin County, Alabama. H.J. Davis, likely Henry Jackson Davis (1814-?), is listed as enslaving 32 men, women, and children in 1860. His wife was Rebecca Ann Locke Davis (1825-1919), likely the “R.A. Davis” who co-signed this bill of sale.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Manuscript court document related to the sale of an enslaved woman named "Frances," Fayette County, TX, 1857.

10pp, 8 x 12 1/2 in. (light soil, creasing at folds, toning). Original seal and binding.

The case of enslaver Edward A. Williams, plaintiff, versus enslaver John Ingram, defendant, heard in the District Court, County of Fayette, before Judge James H. Bell (1825-1892). Williams alleges that the enslaved woman "Frances," who was "of a yellow complexion aged about twenty two years" and was warranted by Ingram to be "sound in both body and mind" at the time of her sale, was "not at the time and date of said covenant sound either in body or mind but on the contrary was then and there diseased disabled and infirm...." Williams seeks from Ingram damages in the amount of $800 which was the price paid for the enslaved woman, as well as an additional $200 "laid out and expended in nursing and taking care of said negro woman...." On 20 May 1857 a jury ruled in favor of the defendant.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Manuscript trial speech given by M.B. King in defense of Skelt Greer, an enslaved man convicted of murder.

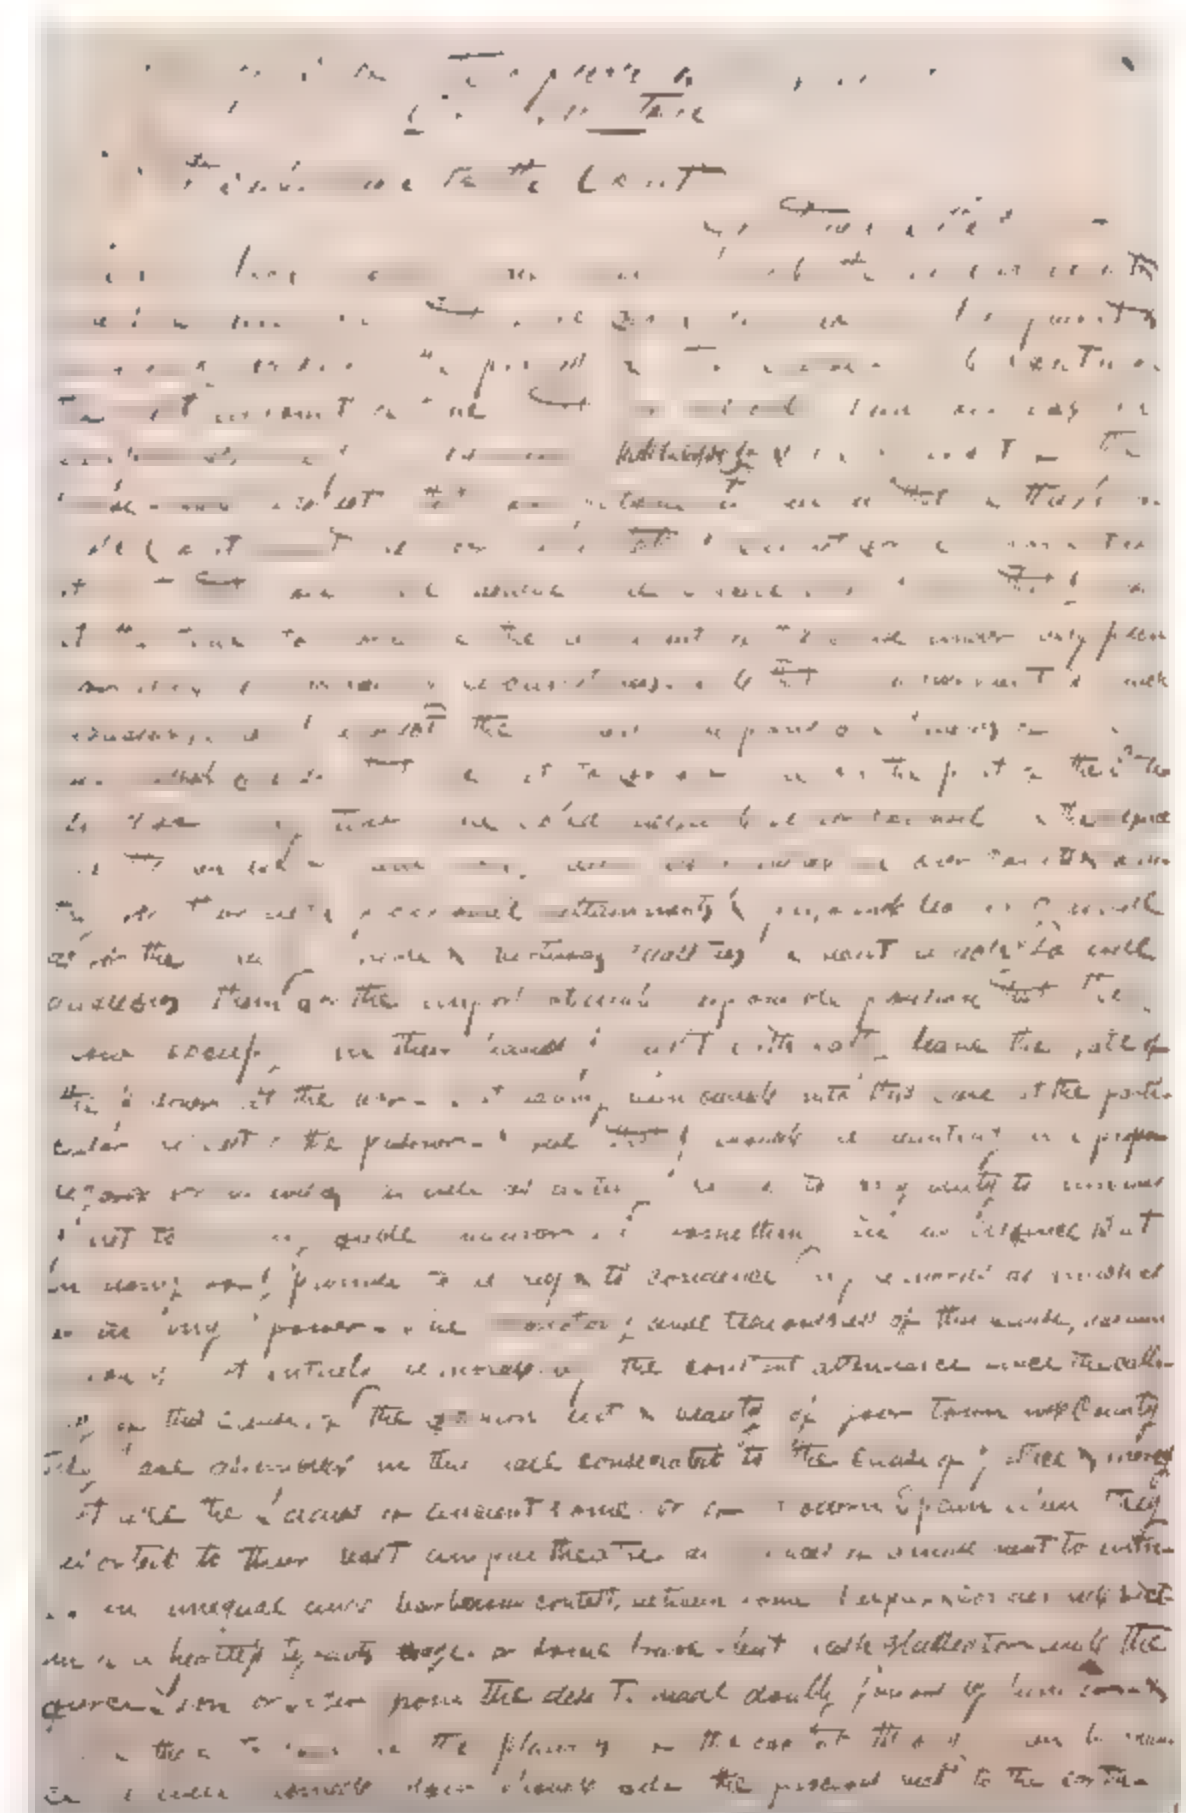

Manuscript synopsis, [Henry County, TN]: [April 1846]. 7 pp., 7 7/8 x 12 1/2 in., halves of speech fully separated, some bits of paper loss at creases, discoloration throughout. Docketed verso.

King's impassioned speech implores jury members to consider the prisoner's position as a "poor, humble & unlettered Son of Africa. He has been deserted by every friend on earth save his counsel. His master, who by the laws of the land he was bound to serve and obey, and who in turn was bound to defend and protect his Slave, in the hour of danger when the storm of public indignation seemed to be gathering around him, deserted and left him to his fate. No Father or Mother is there here to sympathise [sic] with him, or in his lone hours passed in chains in the dark dungeon to sooth & cheer him by their presence." He also reminds his audience of Greer's position under the law: "But he has one cheering consolation left him, thanks to the humanity and wisdom of our Law makers, a Slave as he is; when he comes into this court charged with the crime of murder he is at once placed upon an equality with the most favored citizen of our country. By the principle of universal emancipation; he stands before this court, and demands of it an intelligent; and impartial Jury, which cannot & which has not been denied him, and he now claims of you gentlemen of the Jury..."

Records held at the University of Albany, M.E. Grenander Department of Special Collections & Archives show that the murdered individual was a Mr. DuPey. Skelt Greer was found guilty, and ultimately hanged in Henry County, TN in April of 1864.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Letter from attorney with description of events surrounding the Booth and Rycraft cases, a significant legal battle related to the enforcement of the Fugitive Slave Law in Wisconsin. Fox Lake [Wisconsin], 1 February 1855.

4pp, 7 3/4 x 10 in. (light toning, creases at folds).

Writing to a friend in Wheatville, NY, Frances Hamilton (ca 1822-1904) first describes his finances, his new house in Fox Lake, and his decision to abandon politics and focus on his law career. An interesting description of the town's Irish settlers follows. From there Hamilton moves to a discussion of "the great event of the day" in the state, the "release & examination on a writ of Habeas Corpus, of S.M. Booth & John Rycraft who were convicted and sentenced to imprisonment & fine about a week ago in Mil.[waukee] in the W.S. [Wisconsin Supreme] Court for aiding and abetting the escape of the fugitive slave [Joshua] Glover last March." Hamilton continues providing his assessment of the case and notes that "there is an interesting conflict between the supreme court of this state and the Federal Court, so that [Federal District] Judge Miller and his Marshal [US Marshal Stephen V.R. Ableman] has no alternative if the prisoners are discharged but to submit or call to their aid the United States troops to enable them to take and keep Booth and Rycraft in custody."

Wisconsin newspaper editor Sherman Booth was an abolitionist who had been sentenced to jail by a federal court for assisting a formerly enslaved freedom seeker in violation of the 1850 Fugitive Slave Act. The case described here ultimately made its way to the United States Supreme Court as Ableman v. Booth (1859) in which the court led by Chief Justice Roger B. Taney upheld the constitutionality of the Fugitive Slave Act.

2pp, 7 1/2 x 12 1/4 in. (scattered ink bleed, creasing at folds).

Writing to his brother from “Henters Hill,” Robert J. Camm[?] describes the sale of several enslaved individuals seemingly for purposes of raising funds to be used against claims on his family estate. Robert writes that he was able to sell “Harry, Festus and Edward” for $50, $830, and $1370 respectively, and offers his brother explanation on why Festus did not sell for more noting a severe injury the enslaved man had sustained two years prior. Enslaved woman “Lettie,” he continues, “we did not sell she is well as ever she was But she has a small not on her neck thinking that might make against the sale of her...The negro traders might say it was the scroffolor [likely Scrofula] and if they did she would go for half price....”

Scrofula, a type of tuberculosis infection, can cause inflammation of the lymph nodes and may be similar in appearance to the “not on [Lettie’s] neck” to which the letter refers.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. Partially printed Spanish-language “Registro de Esclavos,” a Puerto Rican registration document for enslaved infant “José Laurence.” 29 July 1869.

1p, approx. 8 1/4 x 5 3/4 in. (top heading clipped, light soil and minor foxing).

“Folio Num. 3660” describes José Laurence as a 27 day old “Recien nacido,” or newborn. The registration includes the name of the child’s mother and enslaver as well as the town in which the child is registered. The Spanish National Assembly finally abolished slavery in Puerto Rico in 1873, though enslaved individuals were required to continue working for their enslavers for three more years. Enslavers also received government compensation for each of their slaves upon emancipation, a monetary figure determined in part by these government registry documents.

8vo (162 x 250 mm). Publisher's advertisements at end. (Wear to edges.) Original publisher's engraved wrappers with portrait of Burns (paper tape repair to spine, chipping to edges, light soiling).

FIRST EDITION of a report on one of the most important cases related to the 1850 Fugitive Slave Act. Anthony Burns escaped enslavement in 1854 but was captured just one month after his arrival in Boston. His case attracted national attention and there were large demonstrations from abolitionists including a rescue attempt. His case inspired legislation in Massachusetts forbidding state officials from aiding in enforcing the law and refusing the use of state jails. Although Burns was returned to enslavement, he was later ransomed and attended Oberlin College. Possibly married front wrapper which lists William V. Spencer, 1854 as the publisher. 3 5/16 x 2 7/8 in. printed blue ticket (very minor wear to edges).

A ticket for an anti-slavery lecture given by Nathaniel P Banks (misspelled as Nathaneal), early in his political career. He was well-known for his oratory and debate skills, earning the attention of the Democratic party. He was, however, a staunch abolitionist and after his 1853 election to represent Massachusetts in the US House as a Democrat, he joined the newly-formed Republican party in 1855. He won a hotly contested election for Speaker of the House in 1856, became Governor of Massachusetts in 1858, elected Speaker of the House in a bitterly fought contest in 1856. He became Governor of Massachusetts in 1858, and was appointed general at the outbreak of war. Though not praised for a stellar military mind, he was instrumental in the early period of Reconstruction in Louisiana. RARE, no other known copies.

A ticket for an anti-slavery lecture by prominent abolitionist and political Joshua Reed Giddings. Elected to represent Ohio in the US House as a Whig, he was a founding member of the Republican party. Notably, in 1842, he was censured for violating a gag rule against discussing slavery. Not to be silenced, he proposed several resolutions regarding the coastwise slave trade. He resigned in response to the censure but was duly re-elected with overwhelming support in the special election held to fill his vacant seat.

[SLAVERY, ABOLITION & EMANCIPATION]. A group of 40 antebellum and Civil War-era pamphlets on enslavement, abolition, emancipation, and colonization, comprising:

CHILD, Lydia Maria (1802-1880). Henry A. Wise (1806-1876). Maria Jefferson Carr Randolph Mason (1826-1902). Correspondence between Lydia Maria Child and Gov. Wise and Mrs. Mason of Virginia. Boston: The American Anti-Slavery Society, 1860. Provenance: Burlington, Iowa Public Library (stamp).

8vo. Original wrappers (toned, light spotting, some pencil notations).

FIRST EDITION series of anti-slavery statements in letters written by abolitionist and reformer Lydia Maria Child to Governor Henry Wise of Virginia and a Virginia woman on the occasion of John Brown's raid and arrest. Includes correspondence from all three as well as a letter from Brown requesting financial aid.

[With:] HAMILTON, Andrew Jackson (1815-1875). Lorenzo Sherwood (1808-1869). Henry O'Reilly, editor. Origin and Objects of the Slaveholders' Conspiracy Against Democratic Principles. New York: Baker & Godwin, 1862.

8vo. Original publisher's yellow wrappers (light dampstaining, some pencil notations). Provenance: Burlington, Iowa Public Library (stamp).

FIRST EDITION collection of speeches by Texan politician Andrew Jackson Hamilton. Prior to the war, Hamilton was elected as an Independent Democrat to the U.S. House of Representatives from western Texas, where he worked to address the growing rift between North and South. He did not seek reelection but did serve in the State Senate in 1860. He fled to Mexico, however, after death threats spurred by his pro-Union sentiments. He was named Military Governor of Texas by Lincoln in late 1862, a position he held through the war in New Orleans. After the conclusion of hostilities, President Johnson named Hamilton the provisional governor of Texas which he held for 14 months during the early days of Reconstruction. Sabin 29996, 57592. Together 42 pamphlets, 8vo, all FIRST EDITION, many with provenance from the Burlington, Iowa Public Library, condition generally very good. [SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. A broadside and group of pamphlets related to slavery and abolition in Kansas prior to the Civil War, comprising:

Republican Bulletin No. 7 Tyranny of the Slave Power. "We Will Subdue You." The Outrage Upon Senator Sumner. New York: Nesbitt & Co., [1856]. 4 9/16 x 9 15/16 in. broadside (toned). A Republican and pro-Frémont broadside published during the 1856 Caning of Charles Sumner in defense of the Massachusetts senator.

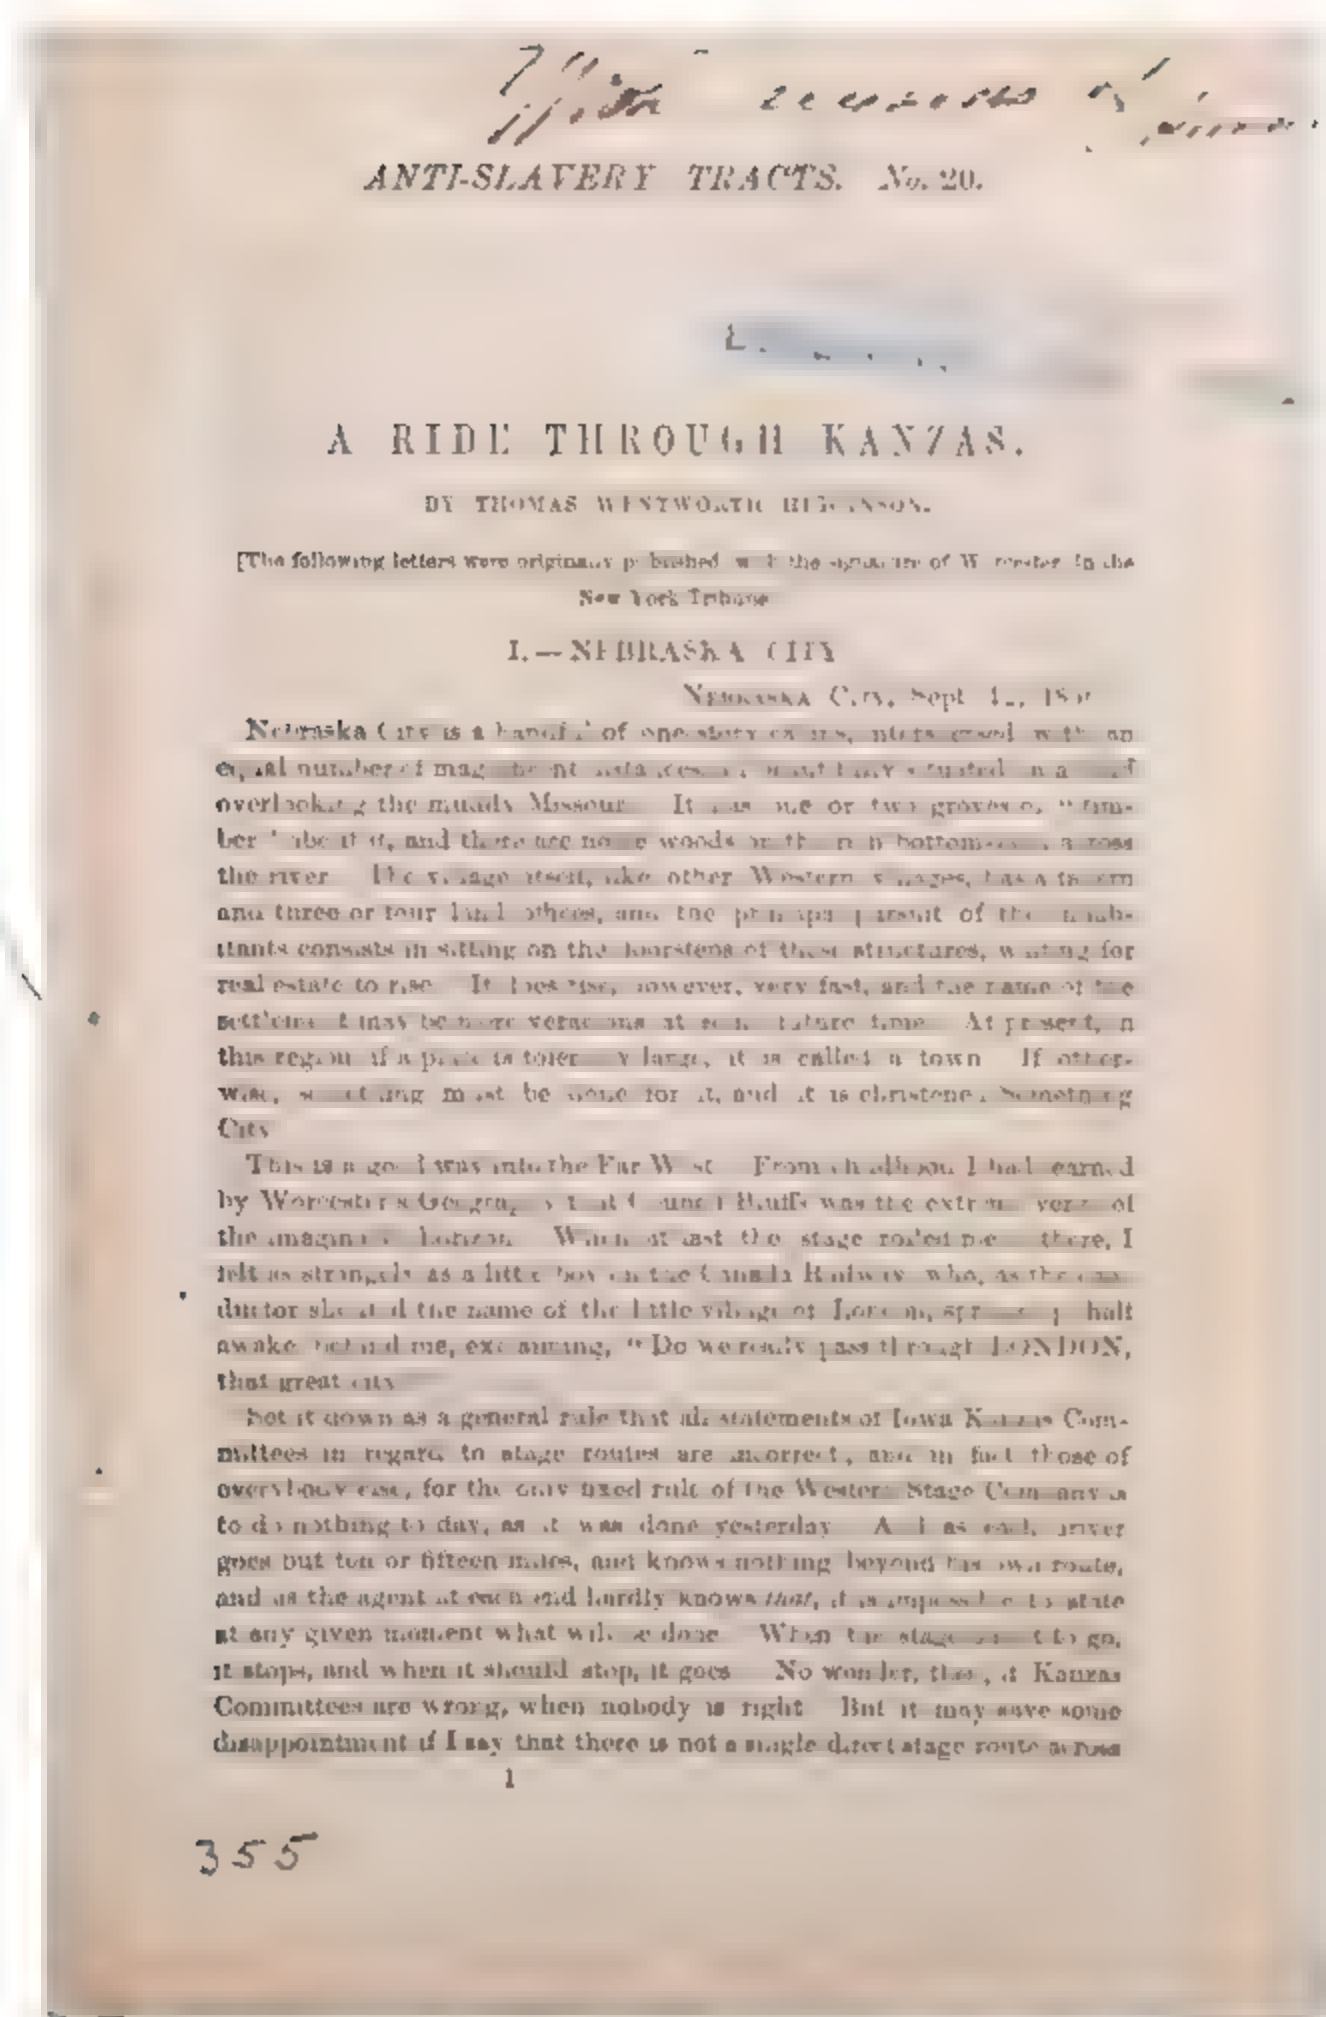

On May 20th, Charles Sumner, an abolitionist senator from Massachusetts, gave a fiery speech denouncing enslavers, including Andrew Butler, a relative of South Carolina Representative Preston Brooks. In retaliation, Brooks beat Senator Sumner with a walking cane, nearly killing him. In the greater context of the “Bleeding Kansas” crisis, the Brooks-Sumner Affair further polarized the country.

[With:] The Border Ruffian Code in Kansas. [New York]: N.p., [1856]. Sabin 6411, 37020. 8vo. Map "Freedom and Slavery, and the Coveted Territories." (Occasional spotting.) [SLAVERY & ABOLITION] – [BROWN, JOHN (1800-1859)]. Ledger book of Amos Judson, including reference to John Brown, Owen Brown, and Joshua Giddings. [Pennsylvania]: ca 1818-1831.

6 1/2 x 7 3/4 in. ledger with decorative paper boards, leather spine, 152 pp., nearly all of which are utilized (general wear, discoloration to page edges). Front cover with ink inscription reading, in part, “S[?] Hutchins & C[ompany] / Waste Book No. 8.” First page features inscription reading, “30 [?] Shingles for Mr. John Brown to be Sent to Owen Brown Hudson Portage County Ohio leave of Mr. Giddings Cleveland.” An additional entry dated 24 June 1830 reads, “John Brown of Randolph [?] / To 15 [?] Shingles / deliv’d at Erie Cty / Paid / [?] By Cash twenty Dollars $20.00.”

[With:] 6 1/2 x 1 3/4 in. receipt for a subscription to the New York Daily Advertiser paid by Amos Judson. New York, NY, 18 August 1830. – 15 5/8 x 12 1/2 in. manuscript account document listing balances, amounts paid, and outstanding debts for the Waterford Academy. Heading reads, “Dr. Amos Judson Treasurer of the Waterford academy for the year 1841.” – 3 1/4 x 1 7/8 in. inscribed calling card for “Miss Mary Judson.” – 7 7/8 x 8 3/4 in. manuscript list of names with checkmarks. Together, 4 documents. Conditions vary, though generally fair with some discoloration and spotting.

The “Hutchins” referred to on the cover of the ledger is likely Samuel Hutchins of Waterford, PA. Hutchins was a local politician and store merchant who served as postmaster of Waterford from 1819-1820. Hutchins maintained a business partnership with Amos Judson, lasting from 1824-1847, beginning with a dry goods store located on East 1st Street. This ledger likely records transactions made at that store. While the extent of the business relationship between Hutchins or Judson and noted abolitionists John Brown, Owen Brown (1771-1856), or Joshua Giddings (1795-1864) is unclear, it is remarkable that these important figures are each referenced in a single note on the first utilized page of this ledger. The additional entry referring to “John Brown of Randolph” is also notable as Brown was appointed the first postmaster of Randolph, PA, in 1828, and remained in that position until 1835.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION] – [COCKRAN, Francis S. (1814-1886)]. Archive of letters to Maryland abolitionist and Underground Railroad supporter, comprising:

Archive of 13 autographed letters signed to Francis Cockran. Various places, 1856-1876. Includes letters from Secretary of the Navy Gideon Welles and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Gustavus Vasa Fox (1821-1883). For a complete listing of items, please visit www.hindmanauctions.com.

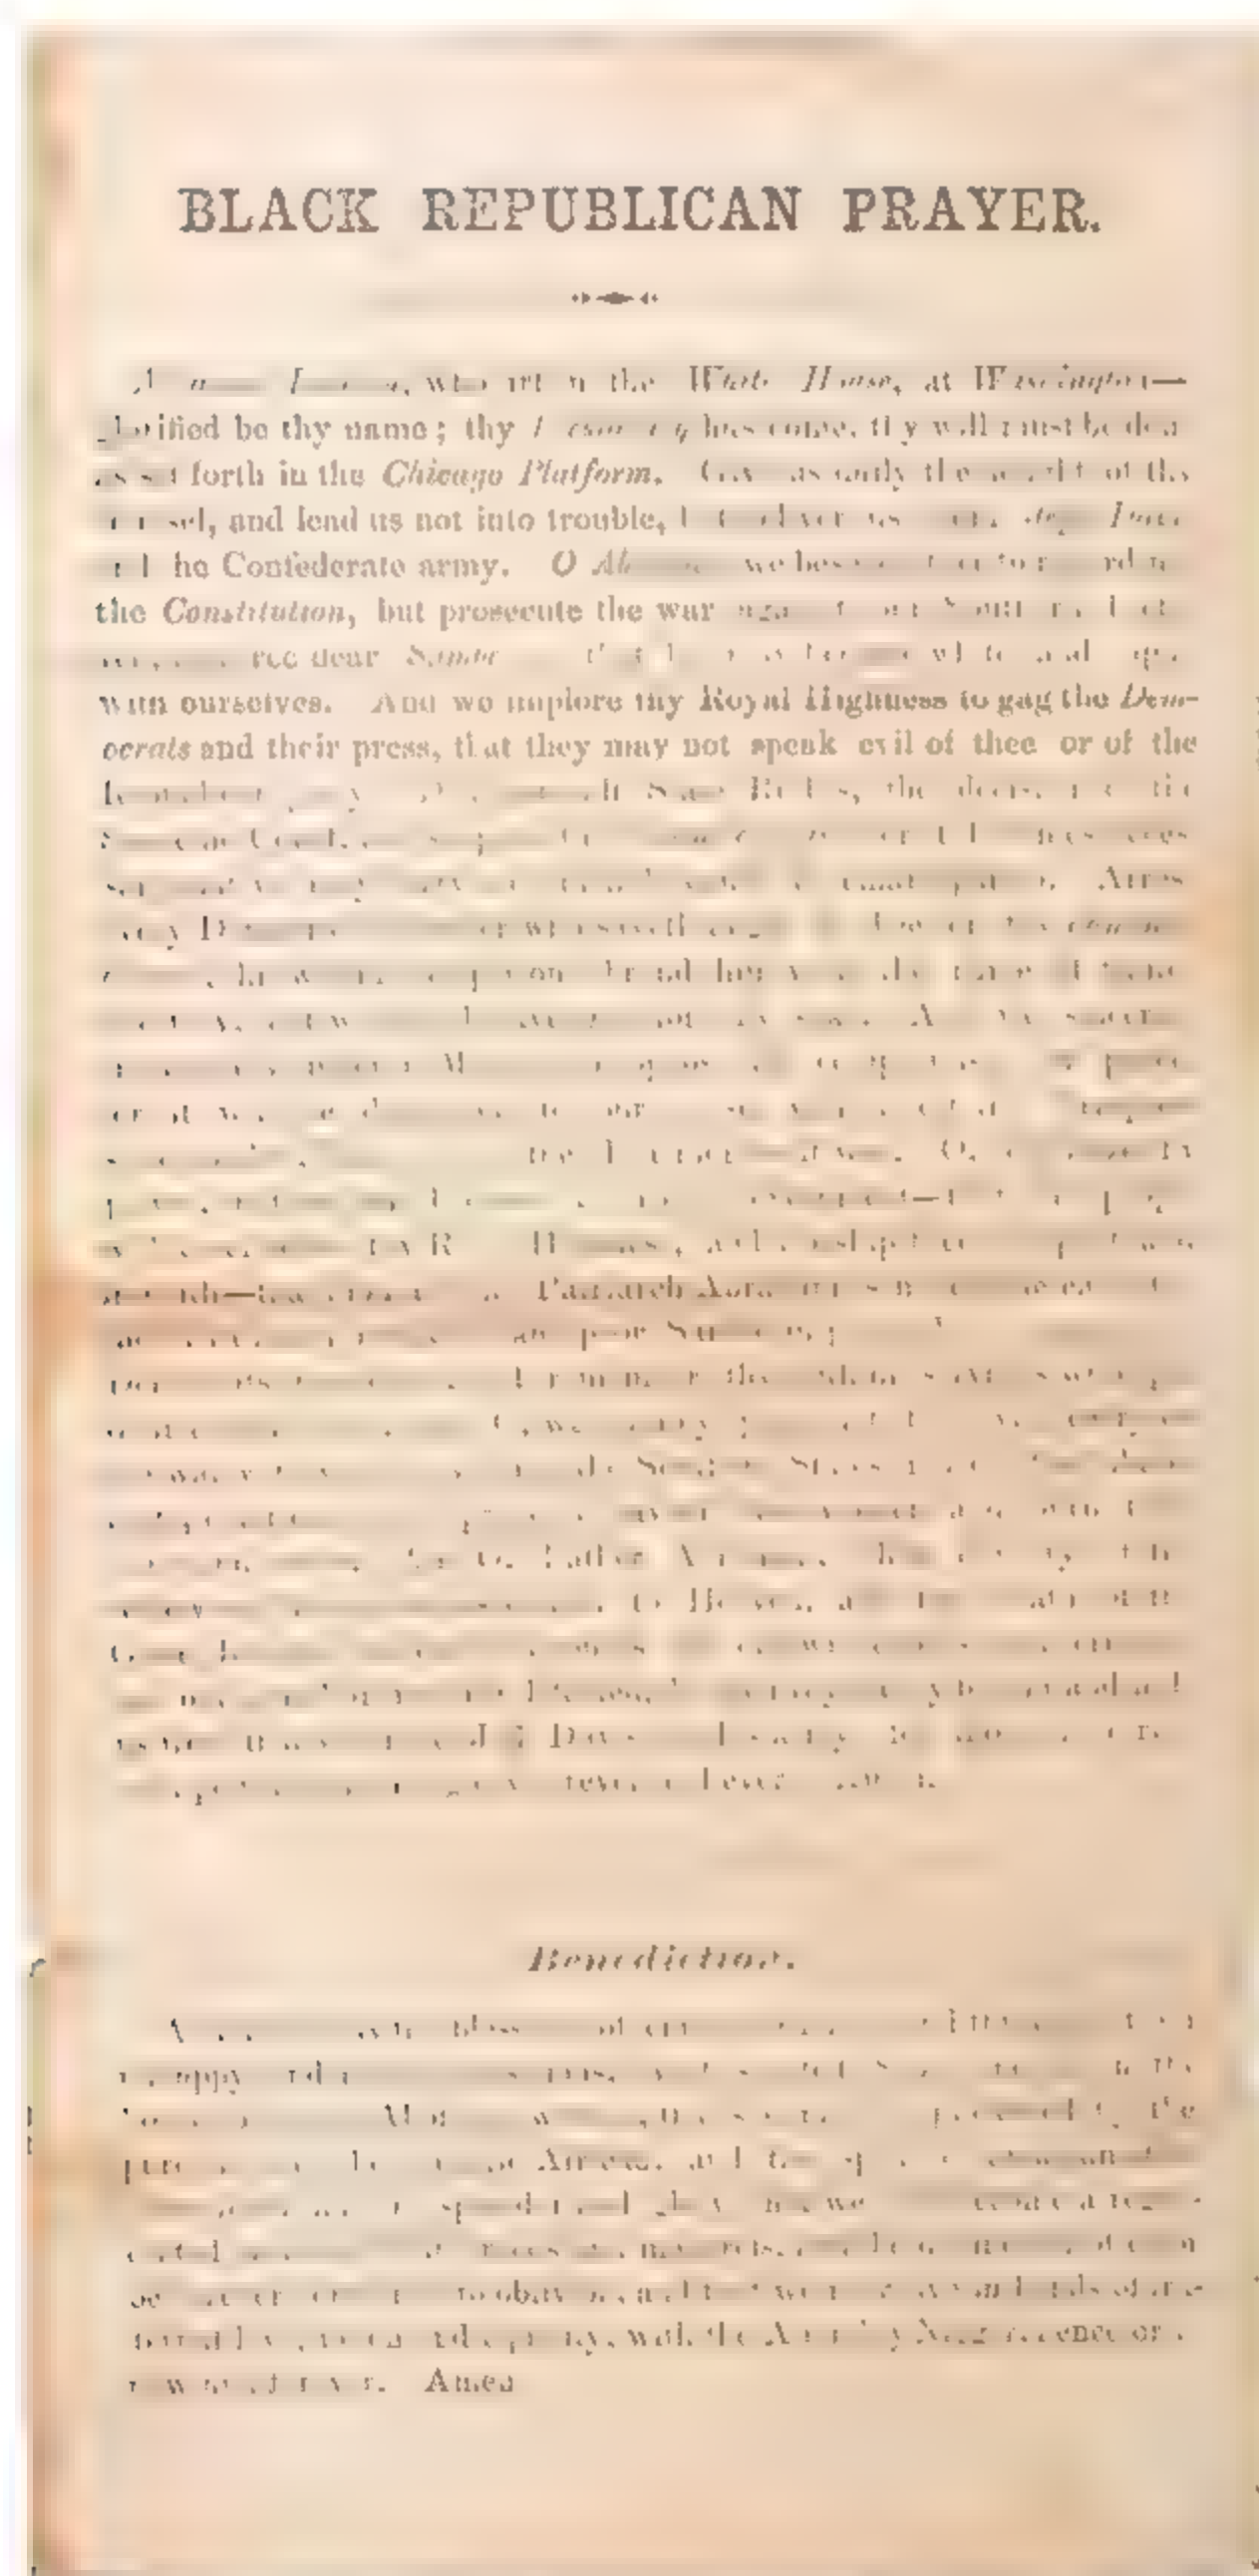

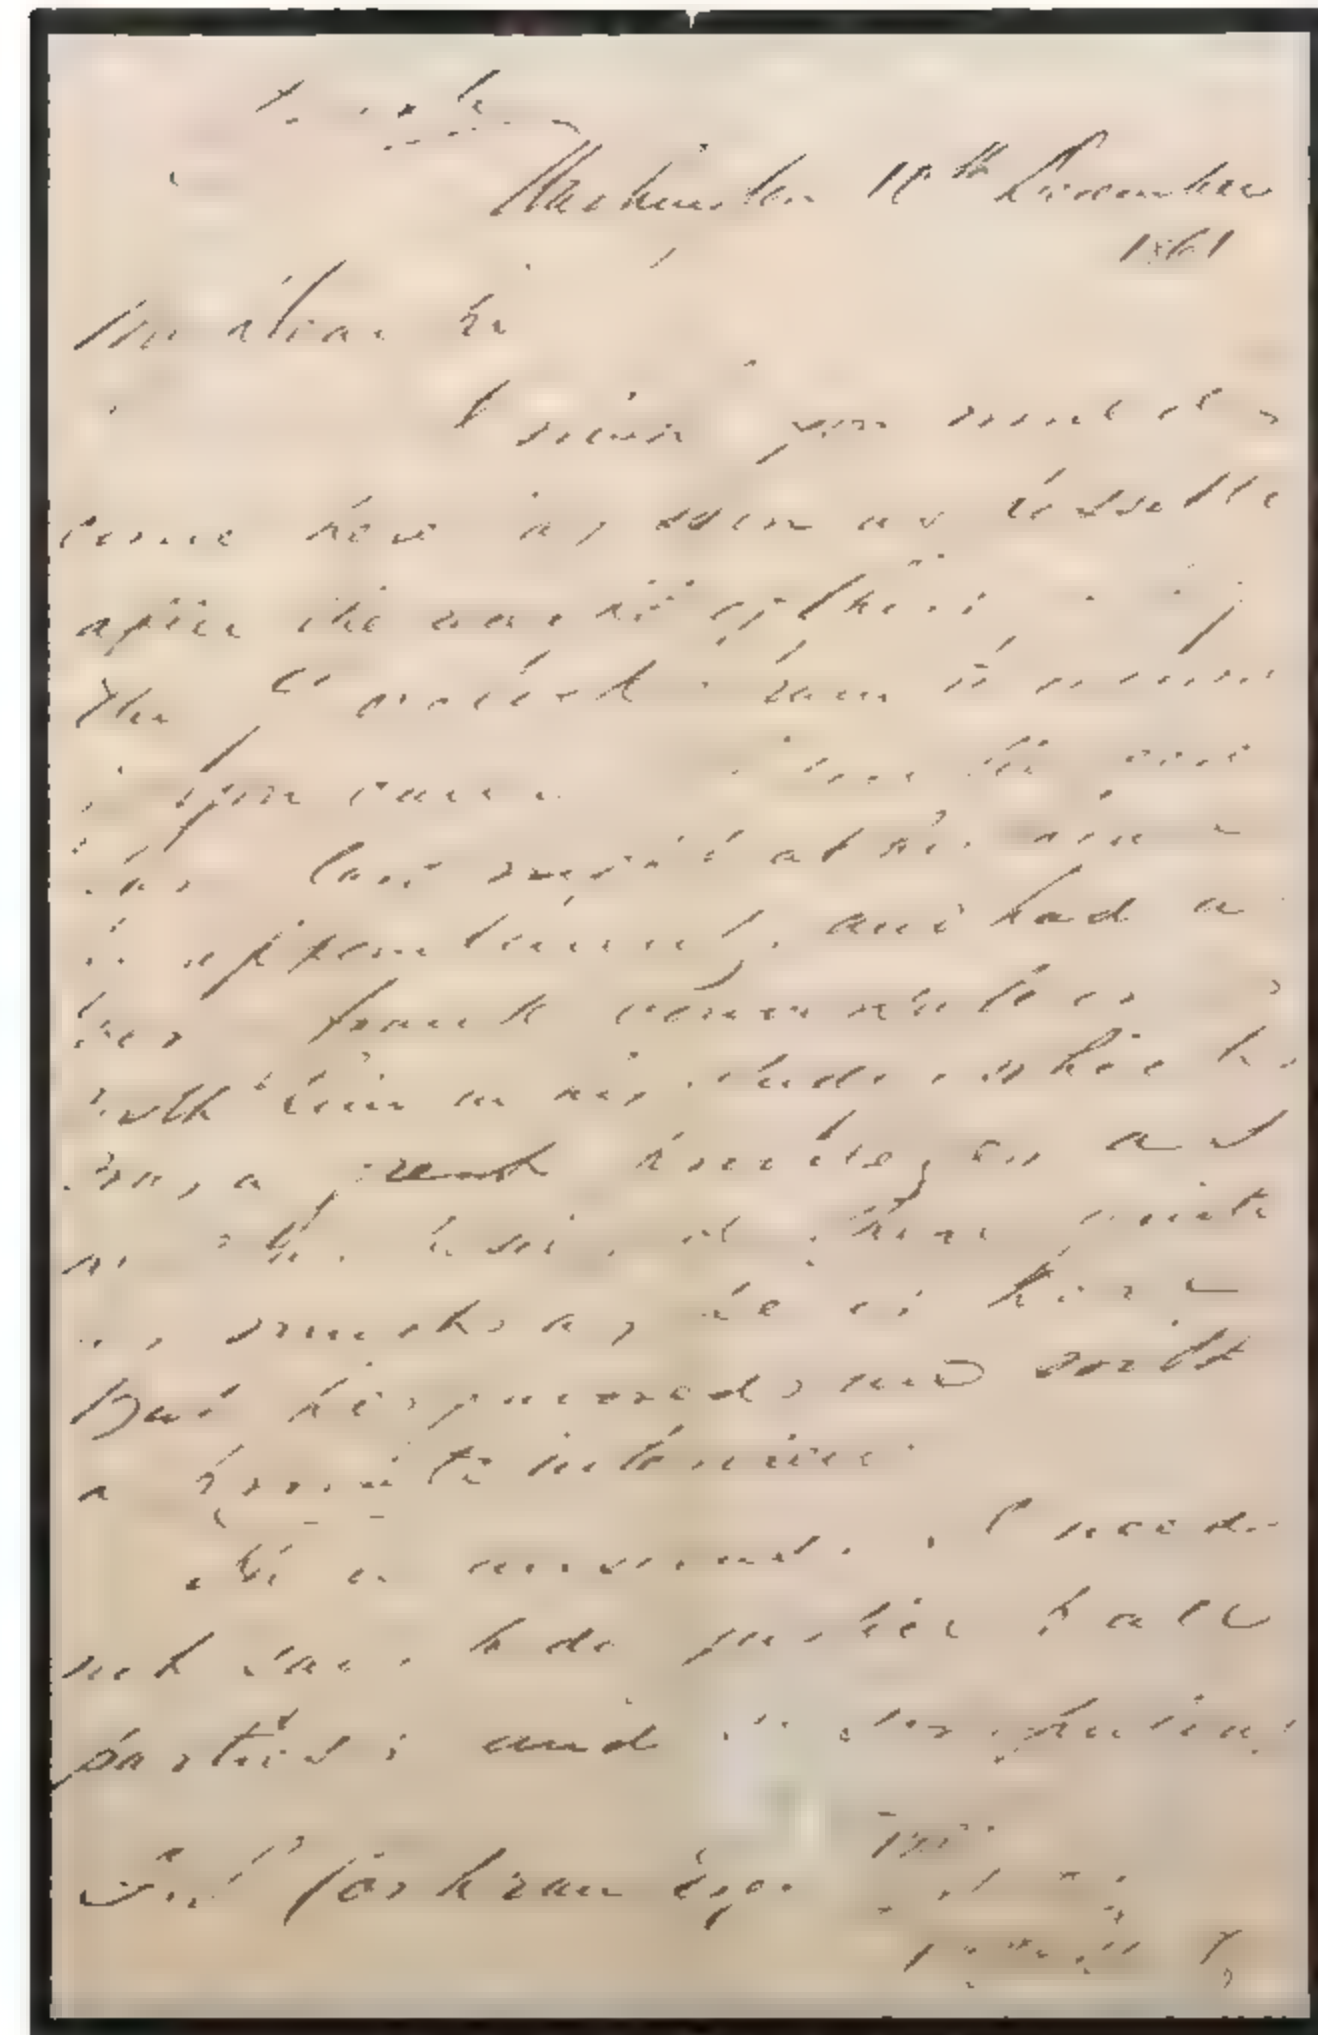

A Maryland abolitionist and businessman active in the Underground Railroad, Cockran was an early and influential supporter of Lincoln for President. During the Civil War, he was the Navy officer in charge of the Port of Baltimore. In his Navy capacity, he served as a procurement officer for vessels to be converted for use in battle. An article by William T. Kelley in the Friends Intelligencer describes his abolitionist activity: "Nearly sixty years ago, there lived in Cambridge [MD], an eminent and good man, and later on in his life Maryland's greatest 'Abolitionist,' the friend and advisor, not only of the poor slave, but also to President Lincoln...His name was Francis S. Cockran...He was suspected of being an agent, and learning that his life was in danger, he left Cambridge for Baltimore, where he suffered severe persecution,—mobs, clothing torn from his back, loss of many thousands of dollars in costs, and perhaps imprisonment. Part of this was for rescuing a slave girl, but in after years it was clearly proved (as he always thought) that she had been kidnaped and was of free birth."

[CIVIL WAR]. Sacred to the Memory of the Colored Orphan Asylum, of New York, Which was Burned to Ashes, July, 1863, by a Ruffianly Mob. [New York?]: N.p., [1863?].

2 3/4 x 5 3/8 in. printed card (toned, dampstain, a few ink spots).

The Colored Orphan Asylum was founded in 1836 by three white Quaker women, Anna and Hanna Shotwell and Mary Lindley Murray, to house and care for Black children who were orphaned. Prior to its founding, Black children were housed in jail or left homeless as orphanages, by and large, refused entry. In March 1863, stricter conscription for the Federal Army was enforced. A substitute could be hired, however, this luxury was accessible only to the wealthy. Additionally, Black men were not subject to conscription as they were not yet considered citizens of the United States. As a result, working-class white males, many associated with Irish mobs, rioted in response to the laws, attacking Black neighborhoods and Federal buildings. In the violence on the first day, the Colored Orphan Asylum was burned down on 13 July 1863.

In response to the rioters, the Democratic Governor of New York, Horatio Seymour (1810-1886) was conciliatory, earning him the ire of Republicans, accusing him of treason and support for the Confederacy. This small handbill was produced highlighting this criticism stating that the "Ruffianly Mob...were acknowledged and addressed by Horatio Seymour, Governor of New York, as being his "Friends."

RARE, only one other copy known, held in the New-York Historical Society, Association for the Benefit of Colored Orphans Records, series 13: Miscellaneous Items, folder 1, 1853-1865 (Seraile, William. Angels of Mercy, p. 73).

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. KEMBLE, Frances Anne (1809-1893). The Views of Judge Woodward and Bishop Hopkins on Negro Slavery at the South, Illustrated from the Journal of a Residence on a Georgian Plantation. [Philadelphia?]: Privately printed, [1863?].

8vo. Woodcut illustrations on front wrapper and title page. (Soft vertical crease.) Publisher's original illustrated yellow wrappers (light soiling, pencil notations).

FIRST EDITION of the abolitionist response to the pro-slavery speeches by Judge George W. Woodward (1809-1875) and Episcopalian Bishop John Henry Hopkins (1792-1868). The cover and title page are illustrated by a woodcut after the famous photograph taken by McPherson and Oliver in Baton Rouge, LA of a “Badly-whipped slave” showing the back and profile of a young enslaved African American man with a heavily scarred back from the brutality of being bull-whipped. Sabin lists the city of publication as Philadelphia in 1863, others list 1864, and others attest that it was a publication by Harper & Brother's in New York, suggested by the publisher's advertisement for Kemble's Journal of a Residence on a Georgian Plantation on the rear wrapper. [SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. SMITH, Gerrit. Jugglery. Peterboro, [NY]: 20 December 1867.

4 pages, 4to, unbound (some areas of light toning, light edge/corner wear).

Noted abolitionist Gerrit Smith makes the argument that not only is the Union not indissoluble, it should be able to be dissolved if it is not to the benefit of both parties to the agreement. But by “juggling” the meanings of both “Union” and “Constitution,” many have promoted the belief that the Union is forever. He also argues that the North was just as guilty as the South for the institution of slavery. RARE: OCLC locates 4 other copies.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. CDV of an enslaved African American "Gordon" displaying his scars. [Baton Rouge]: [McPherson & Oliver], ca 1863.

2 1/8 x 3 1/4 in. CDV on cardstock mount (upper edge trimmed, small dampstain to lower left, abrasion to lower right mount). Pencil inscription to verso: "A Slave of Baton Rouge Louisiana whipped for a trifling offense. J.H. Prater phot. Augusta, Mich."

CDV showing the back and profile of a young enslaved African American male who was bull-whipped after being captured while trying to escape, which left his back horribly scarred. Uncredited but known to be taken by McPherson & Oliver, Baton Rouge, LA, April 1863. Known only as Gordon, he made it across Union lines in 1863, and Northern abolitionists had this photograph taken and distributed to publicize the horrors of slavery. When this image was reproduced in Harper's, it bore the caption "Gordon Under Medical Inspection".

James H. Prater, inscribed on the verso in contemporary pencil, was a Michigan farmer who became a photographer by 1862 in southwest Michigan in Paw Paw, Ross, and Climax. He was known to operate out of Augusta, MI from 1862-1874. (Tinder, David V. Directory of Early Michigan Photographers, p. 10, 2018).

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. CDV of Robert Whitehead with white slave children Rebecca and Rosa of New Orleans. New London, CT: Morgan & Bolles, ca 1863-1864.

2 1/4 x 4 in. CDV on cardstock mount (image with toning and soft focus throughout, edges clipped). Verso with Morgan & Bolles' imprint. Appears to be a period cropped copy of 1863 portrait, Emancipated Slaves, by Myron H. Kimball. Subjects featured here are Robert Whitehead, Rebecca Huger, and Rosina Downs.

According to an article appearing in Harper's Weekly, dated 30 January 1864, Rev. Robert Whitehead was born in Baltimore and taken to Norfolk, VA and thence to New Orleans, LA, by various enslavers including a Dr. Cook and a Dr. Leslie. In New Orleans, Whitehead painted houses and ships, eventually earning enough to buy his freedom. It is known that he enlisted in the US Army after gaining freedom, and HDS locates a Robert Whitehead enlisting at New Orleans in around August of 1863, and mustering into Company C of the 99th Infantry United States Colored Troops.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. ALMAN, L., photographer. CDV of the 8 Haitian men and women executed for cannibalism in Port-au-Prince on 13 February 1864. New York: ca 1864.

2 1/4 x 3 1/2 in. CDV on cardstock mount (toning, surface soiling, and wear to rounded/clipped image and mount corners and edges). Verso bears photographer's imprint and pencil inscriptions reading "Sauvages de Port de prince [to?]" and "Slave Trader."

The prisoners stand in a line at center, dressed from head to toe in white clothing, flanked by armed soldiers wearing plumed headgear. A rectangular sign bearing text is partially visible to the lower left corner, though the text is largely indecipherable. An engraving of this scene was featured in Harper's Weekly, where the details of the story were reported. Eight men and women were put on trial and found guilty of abducting, murdering, and cannibalizing a young girl as part of a vodou ceremony in the village of Bizoton in December of 1863 (the incident became known as the affaire de Bizoton). The alleged ringleader of the group was a man by the name of Congo Pelé, who was the uncle of the young victim. See DASH, Mike. "The Trial That Gave Vodou a Bad Name." Smithsonian (May 2013).

[DOUGLASS, Frederick (1818-1895)]. A group of 2 issues of The Atlantic Monthly, incl. "An Appeal to Congress for Impartial Suffrage" published anonymously by Frederick Douglass, comprising:

The Atlantic Monthly. 2 issues (incomplete run). Boston: Ticknor and Fields, December 1866-1867.

8vo, 2 issues numbering: Vol 18, No. 110. December 1866; Vol. 19, No. 111, January 1867. (Soiling especially to No. 111, creases, light chipping to edges.) Original publisher's wrappers (partial separation, soiling to No. 111).

The consecutive issues contain two articles penned anonymously by Frederick Douglass passionately and cogently arguing for impartial suffrage: "Reconstruction" (issue no. 110, pp. 761-765) and "An Appeal to Congress for Impartial Suffrage" (issue no. 111, pp. 112-117). He calls for the need for strong legislation and warns about the consequences of neutrality: "You shudder to-day at the harvest of blood sown in the spring-time of the Republic by your patriot fathers. The principle of slavery, which they tolerated under the erroneous impression that it would soon die out, became at last the dominant principle and power at the South. It early mastered the Constitution, became superior to the Union, and enthroned itself above the law."

[EDUCATION]. CDV of Fanny Jackson Coppin (1837-1913) following graduation from Oberlin College, Ohio.

2 1/8 x 3 1/4 in. (sight) CDV on cardstock mount (light toning and spotting, adhesive discoloration to news clipping, bottom mount corners clipped). Lower portion of image with adhered newspaper clipping reading, "One of the lady graduates from Oberlin this year was born a slave in Washington, hired her time, bought her freedom, and prepared for college in Providence, R.I." 2-cent revenue stamp affixed on verso.

Fanny Jackson Coppin was a barrier-breaking freedom seeker and educator, becoming the second African American woman to graduate from Oberlin College in 1865. Coppin would go on to serve as Head Principal at the Institute for Colored Youth in Philadelphia, and to perform missionary work in Africa alongside her husband, Rev. Levi Coppin.

[EDUCATION]. A group of 3 CDVS, including portraits of 2 African American students from Oberlin College.

Two vignetted studio portraits of African American students. Oberlin, OH: A.C. Platt, n.d. 2 1/8 x 3 9/16 in. CDVs on cardstock mounts (minor toning). Photographer's gilt imprint to mount rectos.

[With:] Outdoor photograph of a large brick building, possibly at Oberlin. Mount Vernon, OH: Payne's Photograph Gallery, ca 1864-66. 2 1/8 x 3 5/8 in. CDV on cardstock mount (light soiling, upper corners clipped). Photographer's imprint to verso. (Gagel, Diane VanSkiver. Ohio Photographers, 1839-1900, p. 85).

Oberlin College was the first college in the United States to admit black students beginning in 1835, two years after its founding. It quickly gained a reputation as a center for abolitionist activities and was a key stop along the Underground Railroad. The school's involvement in the 1858 Oberlin-Wellington rescue of a fugitive slave and subsequent trial of two students under the Fugitive Slave Act garnered national attention.

[CIVIL WAR]– [ASHER, Jeremiah (1812-1865)]. CDV of the famed 6th USCT chaplain. Philadelphia: T.W. Searby, n.d.

2 1/8 x 3 9/16 in. CDV on cardstock mount (toning, surface soiling, and discoloration throughout, corner and edge wear). Verso with Searby's pictorial imprint and pencil inscription reading, "Rev. Jeremiah / Asher."

Asher was a third-generation free man whose grandfather fought in the American Revolution. Jeremiah was licensed as a minister in 1837 and would serve churches in Providence, RI; Washington, DC; Philadelphia, and Yorktown, VA. In 1863, Asher wrote to President Lincoln to advocate the allowance of Black ministers to serve as chaplains in the United States Army. His appeal was successful, and he became the chaplain of the 6th US Colored Troops, enlisting on 4 December 1863. While administering to ill soldiers in Wilmington, NC, he caught typhoid and died on 27 July 1865.

[CIVIL WAR]. EMILIO, Luis F. (1844-1918). History of the Fifty-Fourth Regiment of Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry, 1863-1865. Boston: The Boston Book Company, 1891.

8vo. 20 plates including frontispiece, 7 maps and plans, 2 folding maps. (Toned, spotting.) Publisher's original dark blue-green cloth gilt (rear hinge separated, light rubbing to extremities).

FIRST EDITION of "A Brave Black Regiment," the history of the 54th Massachusetts Infantry which had the distinction of being the first black regiment raised in the north during the Civil War. Famous for its role in the assault on Battery Wagner, its recruits included two of Frederick Douglass' sons and William Carney, the first African American to be awarded the Medal of Honor. The volume includes a complete roster and over 80 photographic plates of officers and enlisted men.

Luis Emilio initially served in Company F of the 23rd Massachusetts, enlisting at the beginning of the War, even lying about his age in order to serve. He saw action at the Battle of Roanoke Island and was promoted to sergeant. Upon the creation of the 54th Massachusetts following the Emancipation Proclamation, Emilio was offered a commission as a 2nd lieutenant thanks to his previous experience and his family's abolitionist sentiments. Commissioned on 30 March 1863, he was promoted to 1st lieutenant of Company E by May. Due to heavy casualties during the assault on Fort Wagner, Emilio served as the acting commander by the end of the battle.

[CIVIL WAR]. Bound General Orders book referring to African American soldiers, 1864.

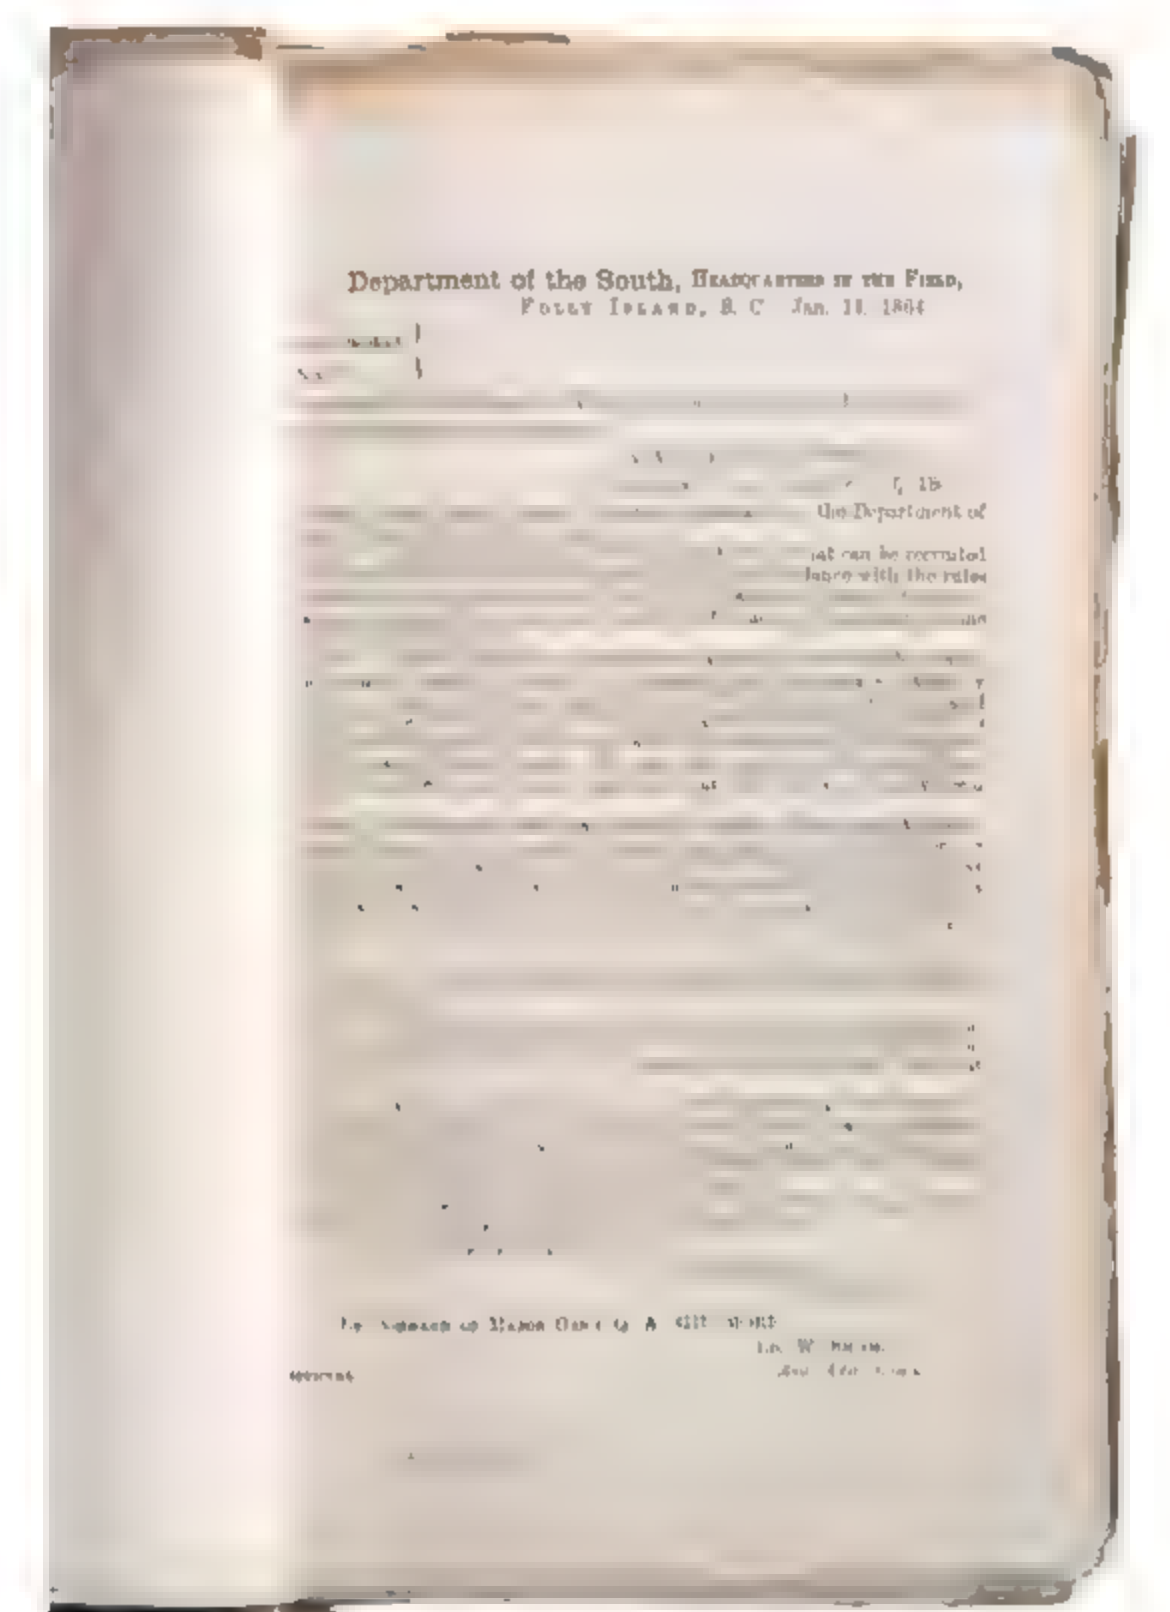

Book of General Orders for 1 Jan. to 29 Dec. 1864, Nos. 1 to 172 plus 16 Circulars. This was kept by an officer in the Department of the South. Headquarters were initially at Folly Island before being moved to Hilton Head, SC. The Department of the South had more opportunities to recruit African Americans than most other Departments and the General Orders reflect this. Thus, many of the Courts Martial, the reports of which make up the majority of this group of orders, will involve African-American soldiers. Examples include:

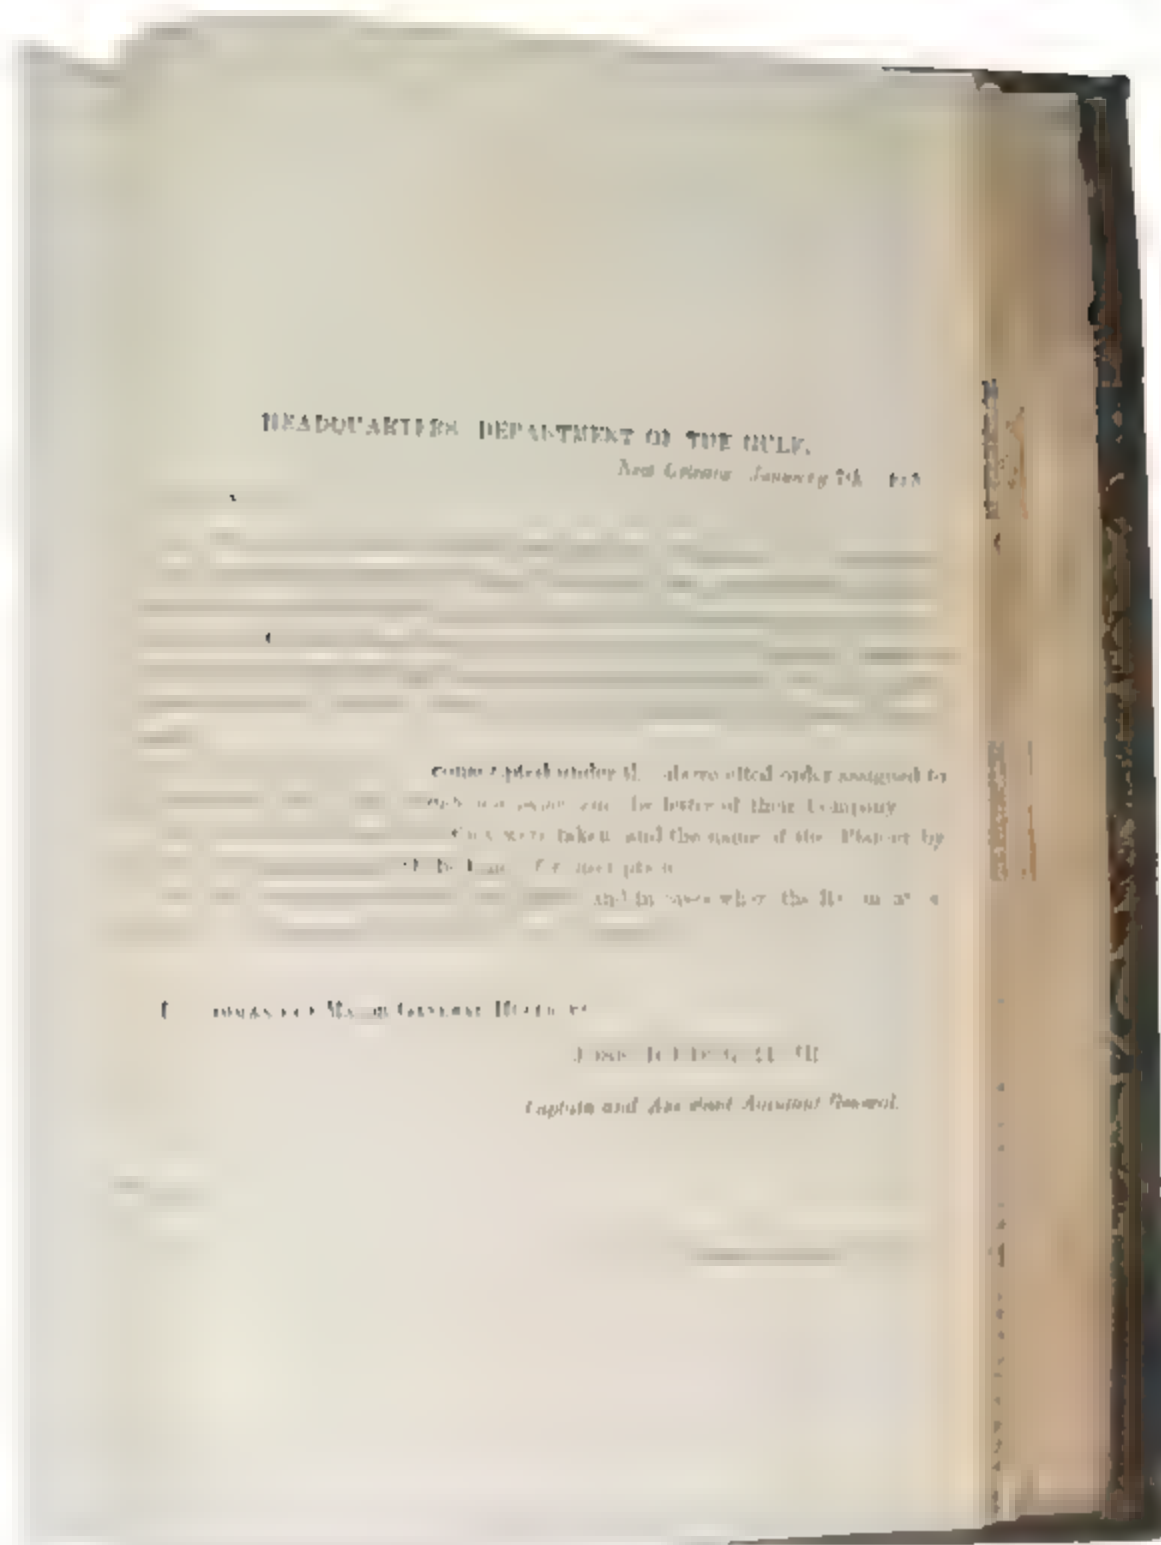

General Order No. 6 (1 Jan. 1864): "Ordered: - That Major General Gilmore, commanding the Department of the South, be and he is hereby authorized: - First: To enlist and organize all the colored troops that can be recruited in his Department, the said enlistments to be in accordance with the rules and regulations of the service and of the War Department, relating to the organization of colored troops..." Second: General Gilmore is authorized to appoint a Board for the examination of white persons to officer the regiments and companies so raised by him and to make provisional appointments of the persons passed by said Board..."

General Order No. 34, 8 March: "Pursuant to section 24, of the Act approved February 24, 1864, amendatory of the Act of March 3, 1863, Boards of Enrolments in districts in which there are any colored persons held to service, will, without delay, proceed to enroll all such persons as are liable to military duty..."

General Order No. 44, 26 March: "In accordance with orders from the War Department, the 1st and 2d Regiments South Carolina, and the 1st Regiment North Carolina Volunteers (Colored), will, hereafter, be known and designated, respectively, as the 33rd, 34th, and 35th Regiments US Colored Troops."

[CIVIL WAR]. Bound volume of General Orders and Circulars issued by the Department of the Gulf including orders related to Colored Troops, Freedmen, and Lincoln's Assassination, 1865.

"G. Orders. Dep't of the Gulf." Marbled boards, 5 1/4 x 7 1/2 in. (wear to spine and corners, some interior dampstaining, light soil). Hardcover bound collection of 112 separately-published General Orders (January 15 - July 16, 1865) and 16 Circulars (January 7, 1865 - June 29, 1865) issued from Headquarters, Department of the Gulf, New Orleans, Louisiana. Volume constitutes a consecutive run of orders and circulars for the Department of the Gulf for the time periods indicated. Orders issued by Commanders of the Department, Major Generals N.P. Banks, S.A. Hurlbut, and E.R.S. Canby. Bound for Capt. Calendar Rohrbough, 118th Illinois Infantry, whose name appears in gilt on the spine and whose signature appears within on General Order #30. Multiple pages featuring additional soldier signatures and notations. Interior printer label "T. Fitzwilliam / Dealer in Staple and Fancy / Stationery / Printer and Blank Book / Manufacturer, / 76 Camp Street / New Orleans." Thomas Fitzwilliam (1833-1917) was an Irish immigrant who was active as a stationer, lithographer, and bookseller in New Orleans ca 1860 and later.

Captain Calendar Rohrbough (1834-1909) enlisted on 11/7/1862 as a 2nd Lieutenant and was commissioned into Co. H of the Illinois 118th Infantry. By the time he mustered out on 10/1/1865 at Baton Rouge, he had attained the rank of captain and served for nearly three years in the Western Theater including in Tennessee, Mississippi, and Louisiana. The orders compiled by Rohrbough during his last year of enlistment bear witness to the significant transformations catalyzed by the end of the war and the end of chattel slavery. Notable orders include General Orders No. 7 in relation to the "Leasing and Registering of Plantations and hiring and control of Freedmen," No. 48 in memory of Abraham Lincoln, No. 80 related to the creation of the bureau for the relief of Freedmen and refugees, and No. 101 related to transfers ordered to the Freedmen's Bureau. Additional orders relate to colored troops, court martials, prisoner of war troop exchanges, the mustering out of soldiers, rules governing paroled Confederate prisoners, and more.

[CIVIL WAR - ART]. FORBES, Edwin (1839-1895). Life Studies of the Great Army. New York, [1876].

A group of 40 etchings, each approx. 24 x 19 in., from numbered series (1-40) Life Studies of the Great Army (loose as issued, some with spotting, soiling, and staining to margins, chipping). Each etching with 1876 copyright date, plate number, and title printed in the lower margin. Housed in original publisher's cloth gilt portfolio (evidence of dampstaining, wear to extremities). A fine group of etchings documenting soldier and civilian life during the Civil War, many including African American subjects.

During the Civil War, New York City native Edwin Forbes became a reportorial artist for Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, joining the staff at age 22 in 1861. He was attached to the Army of the Potomac and was one of the youngest and one of the few artists who covered the entire war. He used many of his pencil sketches for large paintings after the war and from them, produced a series of detailed etchings, which were published in Life Studies of the Great Army in 1876. This series earned Forbes a gold medal at the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia.

[CIVIL WAR] – [SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. War-date letter from an African American mother to her son referencing slavery and the fight for freedom.

JENNINGS, Hannah. Autograph letter signed ("Hannah Jennings") to her son. Ca 1860s. 2pp., 5 1/4 x 8 3/8 in., discoloration at creases, clipped left edge. Addressed "Dear Son." Recipient unknown, but possibly a soldier or African American serving in the war in some capacity. In part: "...you wrote in your last letter to me that you are a slave now but my dear son let me ask if it is hard to be a slave for three years what it would be to be a slave during life and your children after you to future generations - but it is not the negro you are to fight for but the principal [sic] of freedom and liberty and right and justice..."

[BUFFALO SOLDIERS] – [SPANISH AMERICAN WAR]. Sergeant Major George D. Powell, Co. C, 24th US Infantry, archive incl. Buffalo Soldiers' parade flag, identified wooden box and personal items.

Heavy, wood box with key that locks, 21 in. x 11 in. x 10 in. (expected wear, several cracks including one 8 1/2 in. crack at center left of lid). Lid bearing the identification "Sgt. / Maj. George D. Powell / 24th infantry" and interior with label "George D. Powell / 14 D. Street, SE / Washington, DC." – Post-war 48-star flag (ca 1912-1959), possibly for veteran's parades or similar events, 17 x 28 in. (light soil, some discoloration). – Tin cup, possibly 19th century, stenciled with "Co. C", 4 1/4 in. dia., 2 1/2 in. height (some oxidation particularly on interior, wear). – Powell's personal copy of General Charles King's 1905 book The Medal of Honor (scuffing, wear to spine). – Assortment of personal items many related to Powell's service including a crossed saber cavalry hat pin; boot knife; US Army lock (without key); 1898 half-dollar attached to keychain, possibly engraved while serving in the Philippines with "CEBU" [Phillipine province] on one side and Powell's initials on the other; 1880s commissary token for Fort Huachuca; service medals; a "Peerless" cast iron can opener; 24th Infantry shoulder straps; small leather coin purse; pair of gold cuff links engraved with the letters "P"; and a real photo postcard showing Powell dressed in civilian attire. Conditions of objects vary but are generally good.

Born in Virginia before the end of chattel slavery, George D. Powell (ca 1856-1940) would go on to serve his country for 30 years in the 24th United States Infantry. Powell's Company C participated in the Indian Wars and engaged in combat during the Spanish-American War both in the Philippines and in Cuba, including at the Battle of San Juan Hill.

The US Army Register of Enlistments indicates Powell first enlisted in February 1879 at the age of 22. Frank N. Schubert's book On the Trail of the Buffalo Soldier locates Powell as a Sergeant with the 24th Infantry, Co. C, serving at Fort Grant, Arizona, in 1890. A short biography accompanying the archive indicates that Powell also served at Fort San Carlos (AZ), Fort Sill (OK), Fort D.A. Russell (WY), Fort Missoula (MT), and in Salt Lake City, Utah. Powell appears in William G. Muller's The Twenty Fourth Infantry Past and Present where he is listed as a corporal having been wounded during the course of his service (location not cited). In 1926, the War Department's Distinguished Marksmen and Distinguished Pistol Shots lists Powell as having attained the rank of Distinguished Marksman in 1905 while serving as a First Sergeant with Co. I, 24th Infantry. Powell is buried at Arlington National Cemetery.

[AFRICAN AMERICANA]. Extensive manuscript archive documenting the experiences of the Rice Family of Roanoke, Virginia, during the Great Depression and World Wars I and II. Ca 1892-1950s.

Approximately 400 items including letters, documents, and other pieces of ephemera all relating to Nannie Mae Rice Banks (1895-2000), the matriarch of a close-knit African American family living in the American South. Almost the entirety of correspondence in the collection is addressed to Banks. Correspondents include Banks's little brothers Naymon E. Rice (1914-1955) and James C. Rice (1916-1963), and her nephew James Lester Rogers (1920-1945), all of whom served in World War II. Additional letters are written to Banks from a young man, World War I soldier Private Solomon G. Payne (1895-1962) as well as other family members and acquaintances. Despite penning so few letters in the collection (approx. 3-4), the dominant presence in the archive is that of Nannie Mae Rice Banks, a woman who emerges as the keystone of support for her family throughout several tumultuous decades.

World War I letters (approx. 24 letters) reflect a youthful Nannie Mae as she engages in a flirtatious correspondence with a playful young African American soldier. Letters written by Naymon Rice to his sister during the Great Depression (approx. 130 letters spanning 1931-38) provide powerful insight into suffering and deprivation that some African Americans faced during the Great Depression. The World War II-era letters and documents (approx. 160 pieces) testify to a variety of wartime experiences and to the immense contributions of African American soldiers to the war effort.

Conditions vary but generally fair to good. Most letters quite legible while covers tend to be in poorer condition with period damage. An extensive and more detailed description of the archive with selected quotes can be found online: <https://www.historybroker.com/collection/rice/1000.htm>

Black lacquered album approx. 12 1/2 x 8 3/4 in. (heavy wear especially at edges, cover missing) containing 20 paper album pages with over 100 photographs, most secured with corner tabs (conditions vary, some with light soil, toning, abrasions, adhesive residue). Handwritten blue pen notations at top of several pages identify the images to 1963, while one photograph at rear of album bears the date stamp of February 1965. Photographs are predominantly black and white snapshots which appear to document a tour in Vietnam and then possibly a later assignment. Images document military activity while also capturing Cooper and fellow soldiers at the base and/or in leisure time activities. Some images with identifications on back including soldiers' names.

[With:] 3 military documents: a 1968 Letter of Appreciation written to Sergeant Howard L. Cooper from his commanding officer at Headquarters Company, US Army Traffic Management Agency, Central Europe; a 1971 Letter of Appreciation to Cooper from Chief of the Transportation Division, with a note "to continue the fine service you have rendered to the military as you undertake your second tour of duty in the Republic of Vietnam"; and a 1973 Letter of Recommendation commending Cooper for his "attitude, military bearing and desire to satisfy" and including recommendation for promotion to the next higher grade.

[ABOLITION] – [EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY]. Ninth plate daguerreotype of painting of John Jay (1745-1829) and sixth plate daguerreotype of his grandson, John Jay II (1817-1894).

Sixth plate daguerreotype featuring John Jay II sitting, his arm resting on a book on the table next to him. Ink inscription on satin pad reads, "May.5.1843." N.p.: n.p., ca 1843. Housed in full leatherette case under mat and glass, no preserver. (Tarnishing along perimeter of plate, especially to upper and left edges, wiping to plate, and spotting to mat, resealed; general surface wear to case with some finish loss.) Provenance: The Jay family, by descent (Christie's New York, 1999). – Ninth plate daguerreotype capturing an illustrated bust portrait of John Jay. Boston: Tyler & Co., n.d. Housed in a full pressed paper push-button case. (Tarnishing along perimeter of plate, few surface abrasions, spotting to mat, unsealed.) Tyler & Co. advertising card behind image. – Together, 2 daguerreotypes.

John Jay II continued and expanded the abolitionist legacy of his ancestors, including his famous grandfather and namesake, John Jay, to his lesser known father, Judge William Jay, who served as the president of the New York Anti-Slavery Society in 1835. Jay II most notably defended "fugitive slaves" as a lawyer, helping many formerly enslaved persons gain freedom in the 1840s and 50s, and went on to help found the Republican Party.

[EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY]. Ninth plate ambrotype of an African American man with white child, with rare Colonoware jar.

Ninth plate ambrotype. Housed in a papier mâché case with mother of pearl and hand painting. (Image with some crackling and loss to emulsion over male subject's face, some spotting along right edge, very minor spots of image loss to baby's dress; case with general wear including surface cracking and some separation to spine.) Portrait features a white baby in a polka-dot dress seated in a folding stool, in what appears to be a window opening, with a large ceramic vessel leaning in to the scene at the lower left.

The ceramic vessel is notable since it is clearly an example of Colonoware, a type of pottery known to have been manufactured by enslaved Africans along the Atlantic coast of America. While Colonoware was made from Virginia to Florida, most was made on South Carolina plantations. Sadly, the sitters in the image are not identified, and thus it is not possible to pinpoint where the photograph was taken. Clearly, the pot was meant to be part of the tableau and begs the question: is the African American man in the portrait a potter?

A rare, and probably unique image.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION] – [EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY]. Ninth plate ambrotype of enslaved African American girl with period identification.

Ninth plate ambrotype of a young African American girl holding onto a chair next to her with one hand and looking intently into the camera, her cheeks lightly tinted pink. Housed in full pressed paper case. (Image plate with emulsion dimpling and scratching, though contrast and clarity remain rather good, oxidation to mat, unsealed; surface wear to closure area of case.)

Together with an accompanying manuscript document signed (“John W. Freeman”), “Know all men by these presents that I John Freman [sic] of Robertson & state of Tenn have bargained sold & delivered to TJ Waggoner of the county of Davidson & state of Tenn a negro girl named Lucy 9 years old for the sum of six hundred and forty seven dollar [sic] the receipt where of is here by acknowledged. I warrant [sic] and defend the the [sic] title of sd negro agains [sic] all other claims but do not warrant [sic] the soundness of sd negro given under my hand and seal this the 5 of Feb 1859 / John W. Freeman Seal.” Later pencil inscription on folded verso reads, “Oct, 5th, 1901 / Mollie / Found this paper and old picture of the young colored slave girl while back at the old home place in a chest of memories of my grandmother’s / Haze[?].”

Slave schedules for the year 1860 return one record of a “T.J. Wagoner” (probably Thomas Jefferson) of Davidson County, Tennessee, an enslaver of 11 individuals as of 30 June 1860, including an 11-year-old Black girl. As is typical, her name is not recorded. While the 1860 census lists Wagoner as a “merchant” with personal property valued at $3500; we assume much of this wealth was from enslaved humans.

[EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY]. Sixth plate tintype portrait of an African American woman. Ca 1870s.

Sixth plate tintype. (Light spotting, some bending to plate and spotting to mat; resealed.) Housed in a full pressed paper case (separation with repair to spine, general wear throughout). Date penciled on case behind image, "May 23 / 1873." Subject wears her hair wrapped in a plaid textile and gold-highlighted accessories.

$800 - 1,200

[AFRICAN AMERICANA]. Sixth plate tintype of lovely young African American girl. Ca early 1860s.

2 1/2 x 3 1/4 in. hand-tinted tintype. (Some surface wear to plate, spotting to mat; unsealed.) Housed in full pressed paper case (general wear throughout). Subject looks slightly away from the camera with a rather evocative expression, her jewelry highlighted gold.

Consignor relates that this was acquired from the Civil War show in Richmond, VA, show many years ago.

$400 - 600

[EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY]. A group of 2 tintypes of African Americans, incl. female and male subjects.

2 3/8 x 3 3/4 in. tintype of a woman, proudly posed in a ruffled dress, her necktie highlighted pink. (Some light horizontal creasing throughout plate.) Uncased.

[With:] Sixth plate tintype of a young man wearing a sweater, the trim highlighted blue. (Horizontal creasing to plate, verso taped to cover glass.) Housed in pressed paper case (reinforced at hinge, surface wear).

$300 - 400

[EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY]. A group of 2 sixth plate tintypes of handsome African American gentlemen, comprising:

Sixth plate tintypes. (Each shows very good clarity and contrast, creasing throughout tintype of man with longer beard.) Housed in pressed paper cases (one separated at hinge).

$300 - 400

[EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY]. A pair of tintypes of African American subjects, including startled baby.

Sixth plate tintype. Housed in a full pressed paper case. Female subject stands next to large studio prop made to look like a rock formation, resting one of her hands upon what appears to be a book or handbag of some kind. (Surface scratching and some bending to plate, spotting to mat; unsealed.) – Sixth plate tintype featuring a baby reclining in a chair with a shocked or frightened look upon her face. (Some surface wear, with discoloration to edges.)

[With:] 2 7/8 x 3 1/2 in. copy paper photograph attached to paper mat. Female subject wears a hat and holds what appears to be a small stack of papers. Her dress is tinted blue and the background is tinted green (light surface wear).

$250 - 350

[EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY - PORTRAITURE]. Full plate copy tintype of an African American couple.

Seated portrait of a distinguished African American couple. (Heavy wear and loss in an oval pattern around subjects, affecting subjects' hands and lower bodies, with some crackling to emulsion.) Male subject wears a plaid vest and looks just off camera, while female subject, presumably his wife, wears a circular brooch and gloves. Both subject's cheeks are lightly tinted pink.

[With:] 3 tintypes of African American babies, incl. 2 x 3 1/2 in. portrait with studio credit on verso. Philadelphia: J. Fenton, n.d. (Upper corners clipped, some wear and loss to emulsion incl. few dents and scratches.)

[EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY - PORTRAITURE]. A group of 4 CDVs of African American subjects, highlighted by a portrait of a man with a Fulani hat.

Full standing studio portrait of a man wearing wide-leg trousers and a coat, posed next to what appears to be a Fulani hat. Ink inscription on verso reads, "African." – Full standing portrait of a gentleman with long hair, holding a top hat in one hand. – Full standing studio portrait of a middle-aged woman wearing a dress and apron. – Seated studio portrait of an older woman wearing a dress and apron. – Together, 4 cartes de visite, each 2 3/8 x 3 3/4 in. or smaller, on cardstock mounts. Conditions vary, though most feature some toning and general wear.

[EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY]. Quarter plate tintype of a group of railroad workers, incl. African American and white subjects.

Quarter plate tintype. (Image a bit dark, surface mottling throughout, some image loss to lower right; unsealed). Housed in half pressed paper case.

An exceptional view depicting a group of railroad workers, or "gandy dancers," with their tools. Of primary note is the multi-racial composition of the workers: African American and white men working side by side. The men pose on and near a handcar with an arsenal of picks and shovels. The subject at far left appears to hold a length of rail, suggesting that these men were laying or repairing track.

$500 - 700

[EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY]. A group of 12 occupational photographs highlighted by a tintype of railroad workers including an African American subject.

4 x 5 in. tintype showing 11 railroad workers, including an African American man seated in the front row (plate trimmed, minor bends, some spotting). – 6 1/2 x 8 1/2 in. (visible) silver gelatin photograph of an African American barbershop, framed (unexamined out of the frame). – 4 3/4 x 5 3/4 in. photograph of men posed in front of a possible photography store with “Kodak” above the window, including 4 young men with bicycles, of which 3 are African American. – 11 3/4 x 4 in. photograph of a large cookout, possibly in San Francisco as indicated by consignor. Black cooks are shown at center (corners clipped, some spotting, paper residue on verso). And 8 other photographs of African American subjects. Condition fair to good unless otherwise noted.

[EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY]. A Happy Father. [Jacksonville, FL]: [Charles Seaver], 1875.

6 7/8 x 3 3/8 in. stereoview (light toning, spotting, discoloration and wear to edges of mount). Series imprint on mount recto, title list on verso.

View of an African American family including a man sitting in a chair and a woman breastfeeding a baby on the ground beside him.

[SLAVERY & ABOLITION]. The White Slave. Philadelphia: William Harrison, ca 1880s.

5 1/2 x 3 in. stereoview on cardstock mount (each albumen print partially separated from mount; light wear and soiling to mount). Applied paper caption and publisher/vendor's label on verso.

An African American dandy wearing boldly checked and striped pants, frock coat, and a large top hat is shown having his shoes shined by a young, white boy. Featured prominently behind the child is a wall of handbills and broadsides, incl. promotions for plays at the Adelphi Theatre, possibly in New York, most notably The White Slave (Bartley T. Campbell, 1882), and The Octoroon (Dion Boucicault, 1859). Smaller broadsides are also featured with large, bold headlines that read, "No Slavery," "Freedom," "Negro Emancipation," and "Poor Slaves."

2 1/4 x 3 1/2 in. CDVs on cardstock mounts, providing full-standing or bust-length portraits (toning, some fading; one mount trimmed). Credited on recto and/or verso to Charles Eisenmann.

"Illavaro the Egyptian" was one of P.T. Barnum's exhibited Circassian beauties. He billed these young women as purist examples of the Caucasian race, brought to America from Circassia, though in reality, some, like "Illavaro," were African American women made up to look exotic by teasing their hair and taking other measures.

$300 - 400

[EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY]. BAULCH, William, photographer. Young Workers. Fortress Monroe, VA: ca 1880s.

7 1/4 x 4 3/8 in. boudoir photograph on cardstock mount showing four young African American men, possibly formerly enslaved, seated among boxes on the porch of an unknown establishment (toning, some spotting to image and mount; corner and edge wear to mount, including some loss). Verso with photographer's imprint and manuscript title.

Although Virginia joined the Confederacy, Fortress Monroe, located in Hampton, VA, remained in Union hands throughout the Civil War. Under the provision of contraband policies, Fort Monroe gained notoriety as a historic site of freedom for the formerly enslaved. The photographer, William Baulch produced this image as part of a larger series of photographs capturing the fort and its surroundings.

$400 - 600

[EARLY PHOTOGRAPHY]. Composite photograph of Danville, Illinois, Fire Department, incl. African American firefighters. Danville, IL, 1907.

10 1/2 x 13 1/2 in. silver gelatin photograph on 13 5/8 x 16 1/4 in. mount (some edge wear to mount). A composite portrait of 28 firefighters, each identified in the negative, incl. 4 African American subjects.

Unlike many other US cities, Danville, IL, had an all African American fire company by the late 1800s. Some of the earliest firefighters of color came from other states to join the Danville Fire Department. Firefighter historians Rev. Ron Ballew and Chuck Milligan were able to locate a number of African Americans that served in Danville between the late 19th-early 20th centuries, incl. 3 of the 4 men pictured here: Dallas Dudley Morris (b. 1878) of Shelby, AL; John Chavis (b. 1861) of Chambersburg, IN; and James Cunningham (b. 1864), of Mansfield, TN. Cunningham worked previously as a police officer, and this experience led him to a roll serving as captain for several years. [OCCUPATIONAL]. Pullman Porter uniform jacket and vest. Ca. early to mid 1900s.

Early Pullman Railroad Company porter's uniform jacket. Heavy wool-like material with approximately 2-in. collar, 34 in. length, 24 1/2 in. sleeves, and 19 in. shoulders. Left chest pocket and right lower pocket. Lined with a lighter black textured fabric. Retains six metal buttons stamped "PULLMAN." Left sleeve with 4 bar insignia. Interior manufacturer label "Marshall Field & Company / Uniform Division / Twelfth Floor the Merchandise Mart / Chicago." Overall good condition with light wear to exterior, interior sleeve lining separating from black interior lining on one side.

[With:] Matching 4-pocket vest that retains 7 "PULLMAN" buttons. Vest and its interior lining with wear consistent to age and use. – Pullman wood hanger featuring text on both sides "Travel and Sleep In Pullman Safety an Comfort."

Though African American men working as Pullman Porters often faced rampant discrimination, difficult working conditions, and received low pay, the position nonetheless still maintained an aura of prestige within the African American community. This was exemplified, in part, by the Porter's uniform, but came at a steep cost. An April 1915 government inquiry led by Chairman Frank P. Walsh of the Federal Industrial Commission found that porters were typically paid $27.50 a month wages, but were required to purchase their uniforms exclusively at Marshall Fields & Company at the cost of $24.50 whenever they needed a new uniform.

[EDUCATION]. Press photograph of African American soldiers from the 165th Depot Brigade learning to read at Camp Travis, San Antonio, TX. Boston, MA: Publicity Bureau, National War Work Council, YMCA, 24 September 1918.

9 7/8 x 8 in. silver gelatin photograph (some creasing, edge and corner wear, few spots). Ink stamps, notations, and typed label on verso, which reads in part, "Class of illiterates, Army YMCA Building No. 1 Camp Travis, Texas. These men are from the First Group, 165th Depot Brigade. Building is devoted exclusively to negro troops. Negro secretary teaching class...."

Camp Travis was established in 1917 as the training site for the Ninetieth Division of the US Army, with most of the junior officers and enlisted personnel hailing from Texas and Oklahoma. While Hispanics and Native Americans were intermixed with white soldiers in the new draft division, the African American troops were assigned to the camp depot brigade. During the summer of 1918, the camp served as an induction and replacement center, having an average strength of approx. 34,000 African American and white troops. [RECONSTRUCTION - SUFFRAGE]. A group of pamphlets related to African American suffrage and the 14th Amendment, comprising:

8vo (6 x 8 13/16 in.). Marginal titles. Contemporary red morocco gilt, spine in 5 compartments with 4 raised bands, gilt lettering in 2, gilt decorations in others (rubbing, tear to spine). Provenance: Robert Kingston Scott (1826-1900), 74th Governor of South Carolina (6 July 1868-1872) ("Gov. R.K. Scott" gilt lettered to front board).

FIRST EDITION and personal copy of Governor Robert Kingston Scott. A member of the abolition Liberty Party, he served in the Federal Army during the Civil War, enlisting on 1 October 1861, and commissioned as a major in the 68th Ohio Infantry. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel (30 November 1861), colonel (5 July 1862), brevet brigadier-general (25 January 1865), brigadier-general (31 March 1865), and brevet major general (5 December 1865). He was a POW on 22 July 1864, confined at Macon, GA. He was transferred to the US Volunteers General Staff when promoted to brigadier general. After the war, he served as the assistant commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau before resigning his commission and entering politics. He was elected the first Reconstructionist governor of South Carolina. SCARCE, OCLC locates no copies of these Acts published separately from the Constitution.

[With:] BRUCE, Blanche K. (1841-1898). The Mississippi Election. Speech of Hon. Blanche K. Bruce, of Mississippi, in the United States Senate, March 31, 1876. Washington: N.p., 1876.

8vo. (Toned.) Original publisher's wrappers. FIRST EDITION. Bruce, born enslaved, was the second Black man elected to the United States Senate, and the first to a full term. This pamphlet represents one of his first political acts, demanding an inquiry into the violence perpetrated during the 1875 Mississippi gubernatorial election. He was successful in getting the Senate to pass a bill to investigate the situation, however, the Democratic-led House did not act upon the legislation.

[15TH AMENDMENT]. Hedgehog's Grand Combination of the Powers of Darkness. [Philadelphia?]: N.p., 1870.

6 1/4 x 10 1/8 in. letterpress broadside (some offsetting, very small loss to lower left corner).

An anti-Fifteenth Amendment parody broadside in the style of early minstrelsy handbills. Printed in various fonts it lists the program with racist songs and “the whole to conclude with Hedgehog’s celebrated feat of swallowing a Live Negro!” The Fifteenth Amendment was ratified on 3 February 1870, which prohibited the denial of a citizen’s right to vote based upon “race, color, or previous condition of servitude.” The amendment was greeted with celebrations among African American and abolitionist communities with one of the largest held in Philadelphia on 5 May 1870, billed as the “Grand Celebration in Honor of the Ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment.” This anti-Black broadside was likely printed as an attack on the official celebration.

Correspondence to the Charleston law firm of Simons & Simons regarding a “Power of Attorney to sell real estate from Jesse W. Norris to William Payne.”

Francis Lewis Cardozo holds the distinction of being the first African American to hold a statewide office in the United States when he was elected Secretary of State in South Carolina in 1868. He was born in South Carolina to Lydia Williams Weston, a free woman of color, and Isaac Nunez Cardozo, a Sephardic Jew who worked in the US Customhouse in Charleston, SC. After his father’s death, Francis studied at the University of Glasgow and later at seminaries in Edinburgh and London, receiving ordination as a Presbyterian minister.

He returned to South Carolina in 1865 as an agent of the American Missionary Association to establish schools and colleges for freedmen. Shortly thereafter, he became involved in Republican politics. Despite winning reelection in 1874 and 1876, at the withdrawal of Federal troops and the seizing of state control by Wade Hampton III, he was forced into resignation. From 1878, he was appointed to positions in the Treasury Department in Washington D.C.

RARE, the Francis Lewis Cardozo family papers (1864-1968) are held by the Library of Congress, however, there are no auction or trade records of Cardozo manuscripts ever sold.

[RECONSTRUCTION - CIVIL RIGHTS]. ELLIOTT, Robert Brown (1842-1884). "Civil Rights." Speech of Hon. Robert B. Elliott, of South Carolina, in the House of Representatives, January 6, 1874. [Washington]: [Beardsley & Snodgrass], 1874.

8vo. Original wrappers (light toning).

[With:] CURRIER and IVES, publishers. Hon. Robert Brown Elliott, M.C. of South Carolina. Lithograph, ca 1874, 340 x 422 mm sheet, on wove paper, some spotting, creases.

Elliott was a member of the US House of Representatives from South Carolina, serving between 1871 and 1874. Here he makes an impassioned defense of the Civil Rights Bill: "I regret, sir that the dark hue of my skin may lend a color to the imputation that I am controlled by motives personal to myself in my advocacy of this great measure of national justice. Sir, the motive that impels me is restricted by no such narrow boundary, but is as broad as your Constitution. I advocate it, sir, because it is right."

[RECONSTRUCTION]. A group of civil rights and anti-KKK pamphlets South Carolina Governor Daniel Henry Chamberlain and Major Lewis Merrill, comprising:

MERRILL, Lewis (1834-1896). Report of Major Merrill and Indictments by the Grand Jury. N.p.: N.p., 1872. 8vo. (Minor toning, light crease.) Original wrappers.

PRESUMED FIRST PRINTING. Merrill was a career soldier with a distinguished career. At the outbreak of the Civil War, he enlisted as a 1st lieutenant on 24 April 1861 and was quickly promoted to colonel serving on the staff of John C. Frémont. He organized the Second Missouri Volunteer Cavalry (Merrill's Horse). After western assignments, Merrill, leading Companies B, E, and K of the 7th US Cavalry, was assigned to York County, South Carolina, arriving in 1871 to quell the lynchings and violence created by the Ku Klux Klan. This pamphlet records his reports from York County in 1872. RARE, no other known copies.

[With:] CHAMBERLAIN, Daniel Henry (1835-1907). Hearing Before the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections in the Case of David T. Corbin, Claiming a Seat as a Senator from South Carolina. N.p.: N.p., 1878. 8vo. (Minor toning.) Original wrappers, string bound. RARE, no known copies. Corbin served in the 3rd Vermont Infantry as a captain, wounded and captured at Savage's Station, VA in 1862. At the close of the war, he served with the Freedmen's Bureau. He was appointed US Attorney for the state of South Carolina in 1867 and notably prosecuted the Ku Klux Klan.

[Also with:] CHAMBERLAIN, Daniel Henry. Political Letters, September, 1883. [New York]: N.p., 1883. 8vo. (Soft vertical crease, minor toning.) Original wrappers. INSCRIBED BY CHAMBERLAIN, the governor of South Carolina from 1874 until the disputed end of his government coinciding with the recall of Federal troops and the effective conclusion of Reconstruction.

[RECONSTRUCTION]. – [JIM CROW]. Four items of ephemera related to anti-Black activity and Democratic politics, comprising:

A Message from the South! To Ex-President Cleveland and the National Democratic Convention. [Alabama]: N.p., ca 1890s. 6 5/16 x 9 3/4 in. broadside (toned, upper edge soiled and chipped). Explicitly anti-Black, the broadside pleads with the Democratic party and Grover Cleveland specifically to “save to the South her white supremacy.” RARE, no known copies.

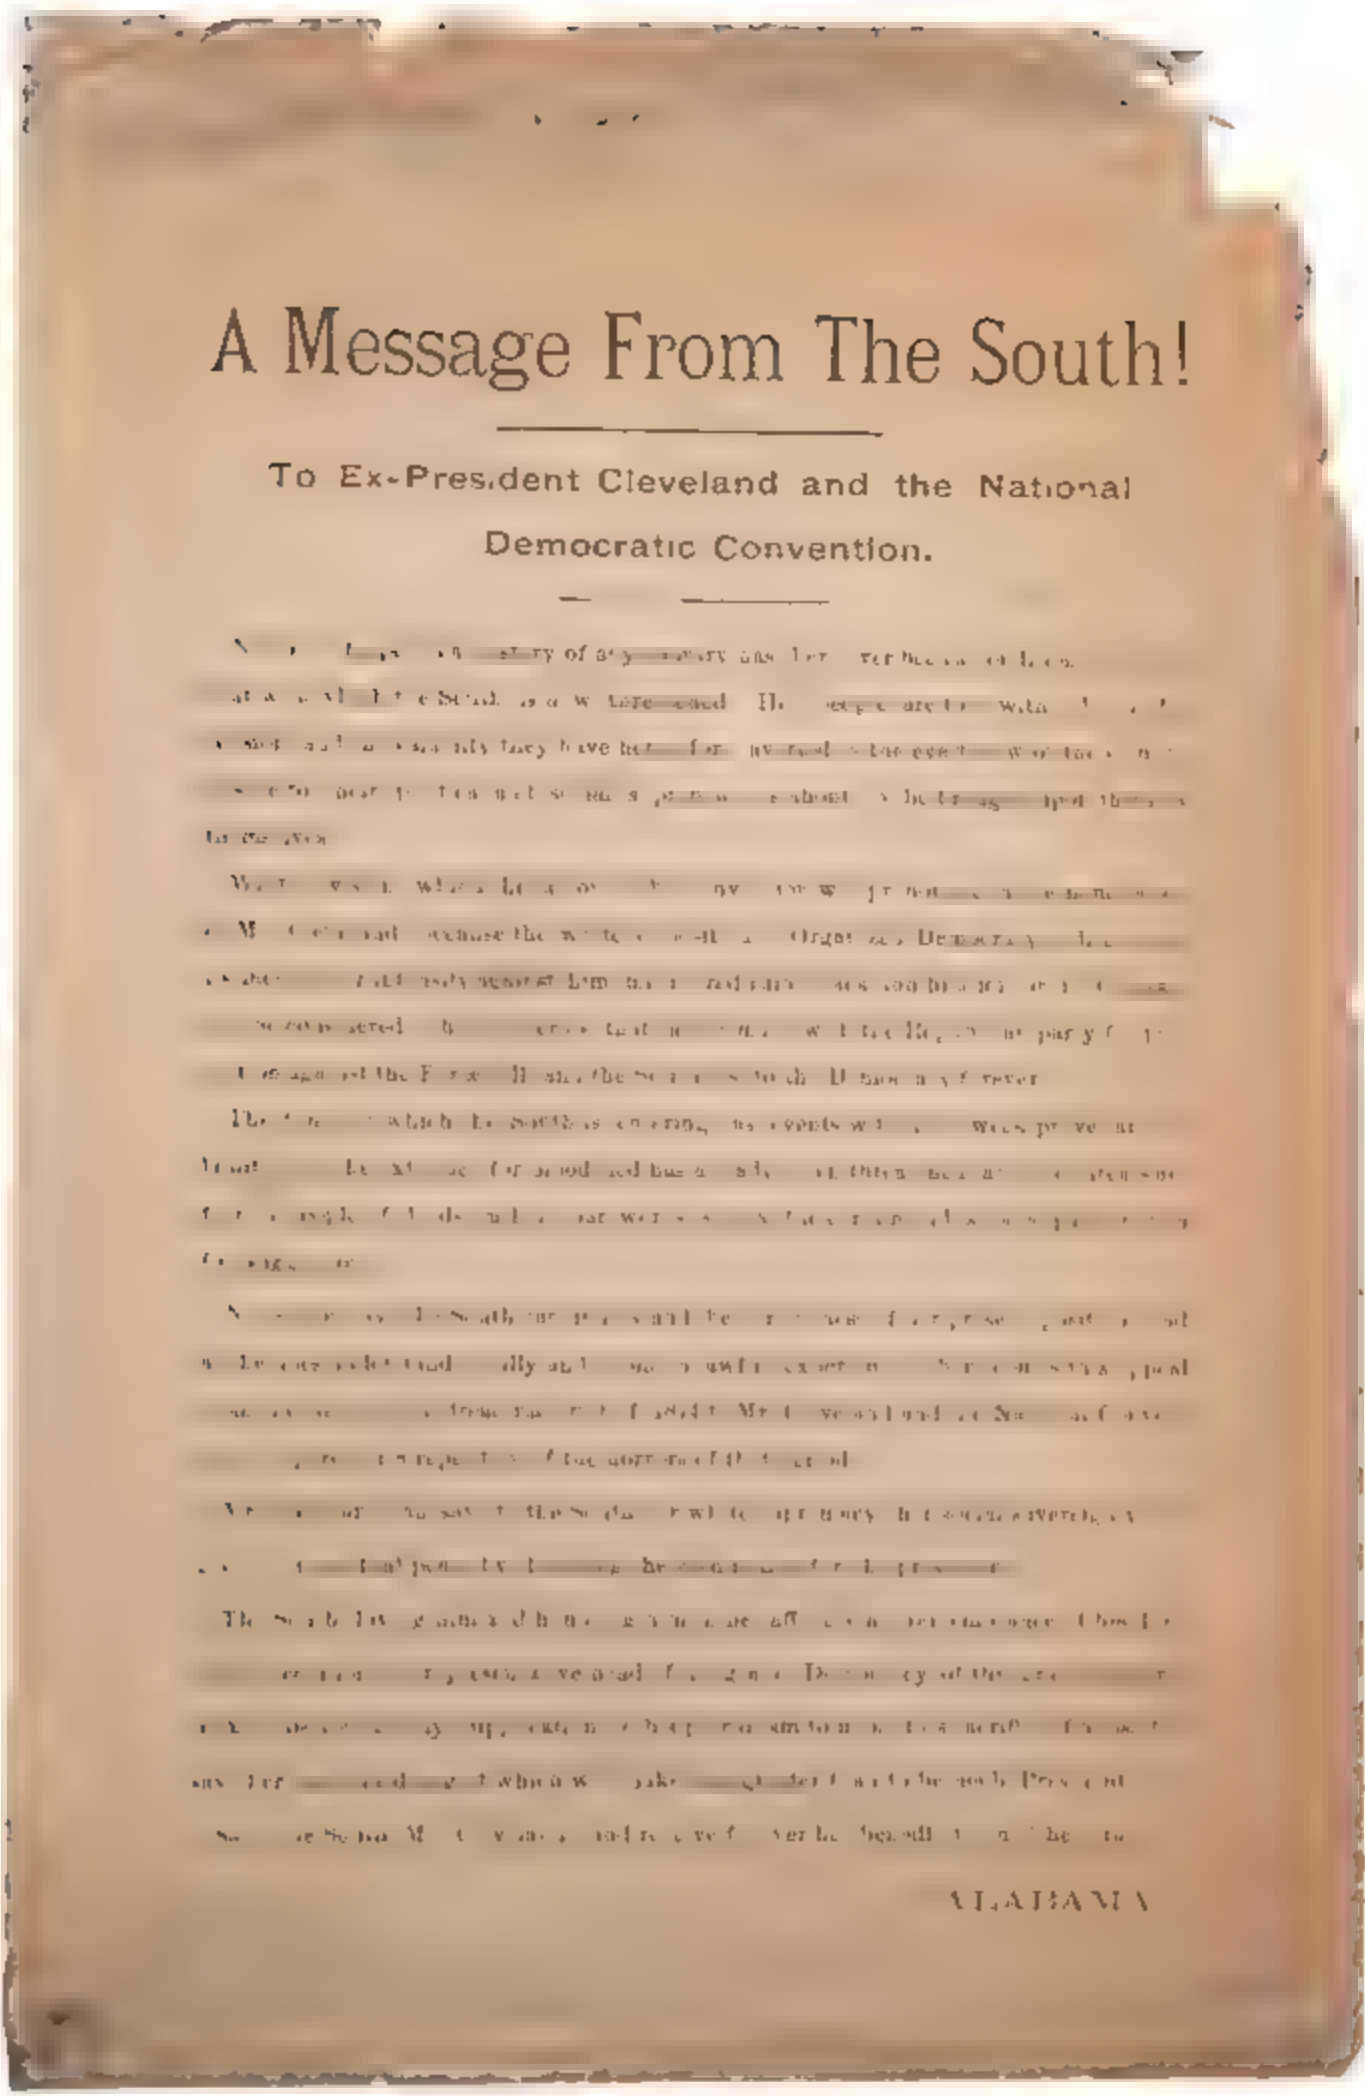

North Carolina’s Sweet Womanhood Appeals to the Ballot for Protection. N.p.: N.p., [1898]. 8 x 9 3/4 in. illustrated broadside (toned, old creases and small tears at edges, tape repairs to verso). A copy was printed in the 9 October 1898 issue of The Atlanta Constitution, however, no known copies of this separate issue.

TILLMAN, Benjamin (1847-1918). The Struggles of ‘76. Address Delivered at the Red Shirt Reunion, Anderson, S.C., August 25th, 1909. N.p.: N.p., 1909. 8vo. (Occasional spotting, toning.) Original red wrappers (creasing, small tears at extremities). Tillman was an ardent white supremacist who used his offices as Governor of South Carolina and Senator to oppose civil rights and impose disenfranchisement. RARE, OCLC locates 7 copies.

Women of Louisville!...Register in October and to Vote in November...Help Us Bring Out the Vote! Lexington, KY: Spotswood Spec. co., [1921?]. 3 3/16 x 4 5/8 in. handbill and needlecase (light soiling, especially at hinge). [WESTERN AMERICANA] – [CRIME & PUNISHMENT]. Portrait of Bass Reeves.

6 3/8 x 8 3/8 in. (visible) pencil enhanced photograph (some areas lightened); contemporary, probably original mat and frame (some chips to frame, soiling to mat, not examined out of frame). Paper watermark "B F K Rives" visible at lower margin, upside down.

Born into enslavement in Arkansas, Bass Reeves (1838-1910) was moved to Texas, and when the Civil War broke out, his enslaver joined the Confederacy and brought Bass along with him. It is unclear how Reeves escaped, but he almost certainly fled to Indian Territory where he lived as a fugitive among the Native American populations learning several skills and languages in the process. After the war, he farmed back in Arkansas until 1875 when he was recruited as a US Deputy. He had likely scouted for the US Marshals during his farming years and became very valuable to the Marshals for his superior tracking, marksman, and language skills in addition to his knowledge of the land. He is reported to have brought in over 3,000 outlaws and was never wounded.

[CRIME & PUNISHMENT]. Ticket to the public hanging of African American Edward Webb. Richland County, OH, 31 May 1878.

3 1/2 x 2 1/2 in. printed ticket, thick black border (overall toning and some soil). Ticket conveys bearer admission to the execution of Edward Webb on 31 May 1878. Issued by James Ritchie, Sheriff, Richland County, OH.

In 1878, African American farmer and Civil War veteran Edward Webb was convicted of the murder of William Finney, an elderly white resident of Mansfield, OH. Although Webb maintained his innocence, he was ultimately hanged for the crime. The hanging, which was expected to be a private affair in Mansfield, drew crowds that were estimated at between 10,000 and 15,000. Sheriff James Ritchie had distributed a limited number of tickets to the hanging, including the example offered here. In the aftermath, public outcry against the execution led to the end of public hangings in Mansfield.

[CRIME & PUNISHMENT]. Press photograph of African American prisoners working on a Florida farm. New York: Keystone View Co., ca 1910s.

8 x 5 1/4 in. silver gelatin press photograph (edges curling upwards, few small pinholes in margins). Applied paper label with typed caption on verso.

View of convict laborers working on the Bradford Farm in Florida. Headed, “State asks that ‘Convict Farm’ be wiped out,” the caption states, in part, “The state of North Dakota has formally demanded that the State of Florida wipe out the ‘convict farm,’ which means practical slavery for the convicts.” The demand came following the death of a young North Dakota farmer named Martin Tabert, who was arrested while visiting Florida for “stealing a ride,” then killed by a “‘convict-labor’ whipping boss” while working on one of the “convict farms.”

[CRIME & PUNISHMENT]. Lynchings 1882-1936. Atlanta, GA: Association of Southern Women for the Prevention of Lynching, ca 1936.

15 1/4 x 25 7/8 in. (visible) (tears throughout, toned); matted and framed (not examined out of frame).

A broadside featuring a bar graph showing the apparent decline of lynchings from 1882 to 1936. Despite the presentation of data in this graph, there had been a large increase in lynchings around 1930, prompting the formation of the Association of Southern Women for the Prevention of Lynching (ASWPL). Dedicated to preventing and lobbying against the lynching of African Americans, the organization was composed exclusively of white, mostly upper-class women as they “believed that only white women could influence other white women.” Under this philosophy, they employed the “moral and social leverage of women in their local communities to create a new climate of opinion.”

[CHICAGO COMMISSION ON RACE RELATIONS]. The Negro in Chicago. A Study of Race Relations and a Race Riot. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1922.

8vo. Photographic frontispiece and illustrations. (Minor spotting.)Original green cloth, spine gilt-lettered (some light wear). Provenance: Frank Lowden (1861-1943), 25th Governor of Illinois (bookplate, inscription).

FIRST EDITION, PRESENTATION COPY, INSCRIBED BY THE CHAIRMAN, EDGAR A. BANCROFT: "To Hon. Frank O. Lowden with high esteem and with appreciation of the opportunity given us for public service. Edgar A. Bancroft Chairman." ADDITIONALLY SIGNED BY THE AUTHOR OF THE STUDY, CHARLES S. JOHNSON, AND MOST MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION: Francis W. Shepardson (Vice Chairman), Robert Sengstacke Abbott, George Cleveland Hall, Adelbert H. Roberts, Lacey Kirk Williams, William Scott Bond, Edward Osgood Brown, Harry Eugene Kelly, Victor Lawson, and Julius Rosenwald.

The Chicago Commission on Race Relations was a non-partisan commission established as a response to the 1919 Chicago riots. The purpose of the commission, which was appointed by Illinois governor Frank Lowden and which comprised equal numbers African American and European American members, was to investigate the causes of the riots and make recommendations to prevent similar tragedies in future. The Negro in Chicago includes a review of the background of the riots and the riots themselves, and concludes with a series of recommendations and suggestions by the commission to the police, City Council, Board of Education, social and civic organizations, the public, employers and labor organizations, street car companies, restaurants, theaters, stores, and to the press. [CIVIL RIGHTS]. LEE, Edward, attributed. I am an American Negro. Jackson, MS: July 1963.

Edward Lee and his wife operated "The Edward Lee," one of a small number of Black-owned hotels in Jackson, Mississippi. It served as an important hotel for African Americans in Mississippi during the Civil Rights movement. Although there is a lack of conclusive evidence, it seems likely that this sign was created by the same Edward Lee and possibly displayed at his establishment.

[KING, Martin Luther, Jr. (1929-1968)]. Rally for Freedom in Support of the Birmingham Movement. Wrigley Field, Los Angeles, CA: 26 May 1963.

4pp, folio, 7 x 8 1/2 in. (horizontal crease at fold as well as scattered creasing).

Program cover identifies featured presenters as Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Dick Gregory, Rev. Wyatt Walker, and Rev. Ralph Abernathy. Interior lists "Participating Organizations," as well as individual names under "Publicity," "Community Contact,"
"Ushers," and "Citizens Committee."

Martin Luther King, Jr. was arrested in Birmingham, Alabama, on 12 April 1963, and penned his "Letter from Birmingham Jail" while spending more than a week in confinement there. The Rally for Freedom, held in Los Angeles just over a month later, was a fundraising event for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. It was specifically organized to aid the SCLC in meeting the cost of bail and appeal bonds. Harnessing the star-power and financial wherewithal of Hollywood elites such as Sammy Davis, Jr., Dorothy Dandridge, Paul Newman, Rita Moreno, and Marlon Brando, the event helped raise awareness for the Civil Rights movement and an estimated quarter of a million dollars. Approximately 30,000 people were in attendance at the event.

[CIVIL RIGHTS]. Heritage Week / Sprit of '76. American Freedom Train banner. 1976.

35 x 46 1/2 in. printed cotton muslin banner with brass grommets in each corner.

There had been a Freedom Train in 1947-1949 that became entangled in "Jim Crow" laws in the South, when some states refused to allow Blacks and whites to view the exhibit together, as the planners specified. The train ended up skipping many stops in these segregated states.

A second Freedom Train was planned for the national Bicentennial in 1975-76. It toured all 48 contiguous states with 500 treasures of Americana. Since it was after the passage of much civil rights legislation of the 1960s, the issues that plagued the first train did not arise in 1975.

EDWARD JOSEPH PERKINS (1928-2020) was a lifelong American diplomat who helped diversify the US Foreign Service. Ambassador Perkins is best known for being the first Black United States Ambassador to South Africa from 1986 to 1989 during Apartheid. His often-dangerous work in South African centered around improving communication between various ethnic communities and showing solidarity with victims of Apartheid. When he began working in the Foreign Service in 1971, he was the only Black diplomat in his orientation class, and one of about 20 Black ambassadors worldwide. He stated that "Blacks in the Foreign Service faced prejudice," and while the Foreign Service and the State Department have been partially successful in diversifying over his career, much more work needs to be done. (FSJ). Devoting his life to representing Americans of color abroad, Ambassador Perkins also served as the US Ambassador to Liberia, the United Nations, and Australia. After serving as the US Director General of the Foreign Office from 1989-1992 and retirement from the Foreign Service in 1996, he became Executive Director of the International Programs Center for the University of Oklahoma from 1996-2010. FIRST EDITION OF McKAY'S FIRST BOOK, THE FIRST POEMS PUBLISHED IN JAMAICAN PATOIS. Born in Jamaica, McKay studied poetry with his brother, teacher Uriah Theophilus McKay, and Walter Jekyll, who would later encourage McKay to write poetry in Jamaican dialect. His Songs of Jamaica presented a celebratory view of peasant life and earned him an award and stipend from the Jamaican Institute of Arts and Sciences. He used the money to finance a trip to America and enrolled at the Tuskegee Institute before transferring and ultimately leaving school to go to New York. He was a central figure in the Harlem Renaissance. RARE: According to American Book Prices Current, only two copies of McKay's rare first work have appeared at auction in the last 45 years.

HORNE, Frank (1899-1974). Haverstraw. London: Paul Breman, 1963.

8vo. Half-titles. Original publisher's white wrappers (minor toning); original publisher's dust jacket (minor toning).

FIRST LIMITED EDITION, number 60 of 250 copies. Horne's first and only published collection of poetry, the book is split into two sections. The first, "Letters Near a Suicide (1929-1930)" (pp. 8-27) and "Haverstraw (1960)" (pp. 29-40). A figure of the Harlem Renaissance, Horne trained and practiced as an ophthalmologist in Harlem. In 1925, "Letters" won second place in the Amy Spingarn Literary Award and they were published in Crisis and included in Alain Locke's New Negro anthology. Beginning in 1936, he served in several government roles, including Assistant Director of the Division of Negro Affairs, National Youth Administration; Housing and Home Finance Agency, and the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing, advising the Roosevelt administration on racism and a panoply of issues affecting Black Americans. RARE: online records indicate no copies ever sold at auction.

[ART]. BARAKA, Amiri (1934-2014). Illustration of a musician.

4 7/8 x 8 1/2 in. mixed media on paper (light creasing). Signed by Baraka in pencil.

Best known for his poetry, Amiri Baraka's (also known as LeRoi Jones, Imamu Amear Baraka, and other variations) career spanned over five decades and explored themes of racism and black liberation. His visual arts were published in some of his books including The Book of Monk. The portrait here depicts a Black musician playing an upright bass wearing a chartreuse outfit and raspberry beret. Undated, the style bears resemblance to his portraits "Beautiful" and "Play On."

Approx. 7 1/4 x 7 3/8 in. Opening diam. 4 1/4 in. ceramic loving cup (chip with crack at rim, some cracking to glaze/enamel, light wear to gilding). Inscription commemorates the Second Annual Dinner on 23 April 1910. Decorated with a portrait of a Black banjo player and white guitar player.

An article in The Brooklyn Daily Eagle reported on the soiree the next day (24 April 1910), noting in the subtitles: "Mandolin and Banjo Organization Enjoy Much Fun at a Dinner. Loving Cups as Souvenirs." The club was lauded, the reporting averring that the "club occupies an enviable position in Brooklyn and is probably the most sought for amateur musical organization in this section of the country." A very thorough recounting of events recorded the evening's entertainment as "a clever quartet of colored musicians which entertained the diners all evening".

[MUSIC]. JOHNSON, Hall (1888-1970). Honor! Honor! Negro Spiritual. Handwritten sheet music and photograph. Ca 1930s-1940s.

Handwritten sheet music accomplished in ink, unsigned but possibly written by [Francis] Hall Johnson. Approx. 8 1/2 x 11 in. paper mounted on board (toned especially along top edge line, partially clipped left side resulting in omission of "S" from "Soprano," vertical crease running top to bottom at center). Accompanied by photograph of Johnson's musical group the Hall Johnson Negro Choir, ca 1937, 9 1/4 x 7 1/4 in. (small circular abrasions top left, light wear). Photograph is mounted with adhesive to white foam board surmounting the sheet music, which is also mounted to foam board, overall 12 1/2 x 23 3/4 in. (creasing to mounting board, adhesive residue on verso).

Honor! Honor! was a negro spiritual recorded by Leontyne Price, Marian Anderson, and other prominent singers. The sheet music indicates this arrangement of the classic song was by Johnson, an exceptionally gifted professional musician who transitioned into the arrangement and performance of spirituals and choral music. Johnson is also well-known for forming the Hall Johnson Negro Choir in 1925, and for arranging music for more than thirty feature-length Hollywood films.

Consignor relates that this lot was acquired from an African American collector in Harlem who intended to start an African American museum in the 1960s-1970s.

32mo (84 x 115 mm). (Minor even toning.) Original publisher's light blue wrappers). Provenance: Antoine “Fats” Domino (ownership signature to interior front wrapper).

FIRST EDITION, SIGNED AND EXTENSIVELY INSCRIBED PERSONAL COPY OF FATS DOMINO. A small booklet distributed by the local 174 American Federation of Musicians in New Orleans, outlining local union rules, regulations, pay scales for players, etc. Pencil inscriptions covering 9 mostly blank pages near the end of the booklet refer to club names and shows in New Orleans along with early band members and fellow musicians.

Domino had been playing in the New Orleans scene since he was just 14. This booklet dates from not long after he played for Billy Diamond in 1947. It was after this audition that he was invited to join Diamond's band the Solid Senders who played regularly at the Hideaway Club. Diamond and the Senders are mentioned several times in Domino's notes here, with him recording his pay, usually between 5 or 6 dollars. Also mentioned is Dave Bartholomew (1918-2019), who not only introduced Fats Domino to Imperial Records but with whom Domino famously collaborated on over 40 hits for the label including the enduring “Aint That a Shame.”

[FILM]. MICHEAUX, Oscar (1884-1951). A group of 4 items, incl. photographic production stills for films directed by Micheaux, comprising:

2 photographic production stills for the "All Colored Cast" film The Girl From Chicago, 1932 (tack holes in corners, tape on verso). – Photographic production still for The Betrayal, 1948. Written, produced, and directed by Micheaux. Together, 3 photographic production stills, approx. 8 x 10 in.

[With:] PENN STUDIO, photographer. 7 3/4 x 9 3/4 in. studio photograph of a lovely young woman. Baltimore, MD: 8 August (right and left edges folded, wear and partial separation at fold/crease lines). Although unidentified, it has been suggested that this subject could be an actress from one of Micheaux's films. Micheaux produced and directed nearly four dozen films and is regarded as the first African American filmmaker. He produced "race films" using both silent and sound film. The focus was on contemporary African American life and the relationships between black and white.

[FILM]. A group of 8 lobby cards illustrating scenes from Regeneration, a race film featuring an "All Colored Cast." Jacksonville, FL: Norman Film Mfg. Co., 1923.

14 x 11 in. lobby cards (toned, occasional spotting, pinholes and light creasing at corners).

A group of 8 lobby cards advertising the race film Regeneration: A Romance of the South Seas. One card features the production information with a still from the film, the other 7 are movie stills and composites. Founded by Richard Edward Norman, the Norman Film Manufacturing Company was based out of Jacksonville, FL and produced silent films featuring all-Black casts in non-stereotypical roles intended for Black audiences from 1919 to 1928. Regeneration was one of eight feature-length films produced by the studio, with only The Flying Ace still extant.

$300 - 400

[FILM]. A group of 2 posters promoting race films, incl. Murder Rap and The Girl in Room 20. Ca 1940s.

Murder Rap. Cleveland, OH: Morgan Litho. Co., ca 1942. 25 x 41 in. poster mounted on linen (left and right sides trimmed, repaired tear along left edge near center, minor chipping, fold lines). Provenance: Beverly and Larry Richards Collection (per consignor). Murder Rap, also known as Take My Life, featured a group of young actors billed as the "Harlem Dead End Kids," who join the US Army in the film.

[With:] The Girl in Room 20. [Astor Pictures], ca 1946-1949. 28 x 42 in. poster (creasing and small tears at folds, soil along top edge line, minor chipping). The film tells the tale of singer Daisy Mae Walker, a country girl who travels to New York City and becomes the target of an unscrupulous night club owner.

$250 - 350

[FILM] – [WESTERNS]. Harlem on the Prairie. Toddy Pictures, Co., ca 1940s.

8 1/2 x 13 in. printed handbill (light corner/edge wear, slight loss to top right corner, light spotting, some smudging).

Handbill advertising Toddy Pictures' 1940s re-release of the 1937 Western race film Harlem On The Prairie, showing at the "Harlem Grand" as indicated by manuscript notation at top. The film was billed as the first "All-Colored" Western musical, featuring Herbert Jeffries, "Sensational Singing Cowboy," who was of mixed race.

$200 - 300

304

[FILM]. A group of 22 items, incl. lobby cards and publicity stills for films starring African American casts, comprising:

13 publicity stills, 8 x 10 in., depicting scenes from the following films: Native Son (7), 1951 (one photo with upper corners torn). – Bright Road (3), 1953. – Chicago After Dark, 1946. – Condemned Men. – Sugar Hill Baby, 1938.

[With:] 8 lobby cards, 11 x 14 in., for The Harlem Globe Trotters, including one from original 1951 release and 7 from 1957 re-release (some minor wear and scuffing, especially of the original card). – First in News Features Pictures: Pittsburgh Courier. Pittsburgh, PA: ca 1946-1948. 7 1/4 x 11 in. cardstock advertising placard for the Pittsburgh Courier, one of the most important and influential African American newspapers of the period (light soiling and wear to edges, light creasing at upper left). – Together, 22 items, condition generally very good unless otherwise noted.

[FILM] – [DAVIS, Ossie (1917-2005), his copy]. DAVIS, Ossie. Arnold Perl (1914-1971). Cotton Comes to Harlem Screenplay Revised. Los Angeles: Alert Duplicating Service, 1969.

4to (8 1/2 x 11 in.). Mimeographed screenplay. (Minor toning.) Wrappers, brads (toned).

INSCRIBED BY OSSIE DAVIS to rear inner wrapper, "Property of Ossie Davis." A pencil notation on the title page reads, "Revised 3/69." Co-written and directed by Davis, the 1970 film was shot in Harlem and considered by many to be the first Blaxploitation film, inspiring other Black films including Shaft and Super Fly.

$250 - 350

306

[FILM] – [PARKS, Gordon (1912-2006)]. A group of 8 lobby cards for Shaft's Big Score. Metro Goldwyn-Mayer, 1972.

14 x 11 in. lithographed lobby cards, each captioned and numbered in lower margin (near excellent condition, minimal edge wear). Provenance: Gordon Parks personal collection (Parks' ink stamp to verso).

Shaft's Big Score was the second entry in the Blaxploitation Shaft film series starring Richard Roundtree, and both films were directed by Gordon Parks. Isaac Hayes, who composed the original Shaft in 1971, was unavailable to help with the second film, so Parks composed and performed the score himself.

[FILM] – [PARKS, Gordon (1912-2006)]. Leather overcoat identified to Gordon Parks.

Leather overcoat designed by Stanley Blacker (tag stitched near interior right breast pocket). Provenance: Gordon Parks personal collection (Parks' ink stamp inside right and left interior breast pockets).

Possibly one of the coats worn by Richard Roundtree during the filming of Shaft or Shaft's Big Score and kept as a memento by Gordon Parks.

$400 - 600

[PARKS, Gordon (1912-2006)]. WILLARD, Patricia (b. 1928), photographer. A group of 2 photographs of Gordon Parks. Ca 1960s-1970s.

10 x 6 1/4 in. silver gelatin photographs of Gordon Parks posed talking on the telephone, incl. view of him holding scissors in front of his face (strong tonality, minimal edge wear). Ink stamps on verso, incl. photo credit to Patricia Willard. Provenance: Gordon Parks personal collection (Parks' ink stamp on verso).

Patricia Willard is a photographer, writer, and jazz historian. She worked as an editor for jazz magazines such as Down Beat, Jazz and Jazz & Pop. Willard served as Duke Ellington's longtime publicist and as a historical advisor to the Duke Ellington Collection at the Smithsonian.

$300 - 400

[BOXING] – [JOHNSON, Jack (1878-1946)]. A group of 3 images of Johnson's bout with "Fireman" Jim Flynn. [Las Vegas, NM], [4 July 1912].

5 15/16 x 4 in. silver gelatin photographs (occasional light creasing, stain to upper right on one image).

Three outdoor photographs taken during the fight between Johnson and "Fireman" Jim Flynn on 4 July 1912, in Las Vegas, New Mexico. Photographed from the stands, two images are taken mid-fight with Flynn ducking low, typical of the fight which saw excessive headbutting from the contender. The third image shows at least 15 figures in the ring, probably taken prior to the start of the bout. This was Flynn's second attempt at the Heavyweight belt, and he was warned by the referee to stop headbutting. The fight was eventually stopped in the 9th round with Johnson winning the bout decisively.

[With:] Reprint outdoor portrait of Johnson and his retinue. 9 1/8 x 7 in. reprint photograph on cardstock. Johnson smiles at center next to a smartly dressed woman with 16 other figures posed around him, both white and Black.

$600 - 800

[BOXING] – [TURNER, Rufus (d. 1937)]. 2 Cabinet cards of boxer Rufus “Rufe” Turner. Sommer Studio: Philadelphia, [1905].

3 7/8 x 5 7/16 in. albumen cabinet photographs (minor toning, occasional spotting). Photographer's imprint to mount rectos. One inscribed to the recto in ink: “Rufe Turner of California” and dated “March 31, 05” on verso. The other with a pencil inscription to mount verso: “Rufe Turner of California 1905 March 31.” Provenance: Lot 256 of The Road West: The Steve Turner Collection of African Americana, Part I. 20 February 2020.

Both images show Turner in dynamic, bare-knuckle boxing poses wearing his dark shorts, a white sash belt, and leather shoes. Turner was a lightweight boxer from Stockton, CA, brother to Charley “The Stockton Tornado” Turner who claimed colored middleweight champion in the 1890s. Rufe fought for the Lightweight Championship of the World during his career. In 1914, he moved to Manila, the Philippines as a boxing instructor and also took occasional bouts winning the Lightweight Championship of the Orient in 1917. These images were taken just four days after Turner's second bout with Lightweight Champion of the World Joe Gans (1874-1910) in Philadelphia, a fight that resulted in No Decision after 6 rounds.

Evaluation of Property

If you have property you wish to sell, please call our Consignment Department at 312.280.1212 to arrange for a consultation. At that time, you may make an appointment to bring your property or photographs, along with any other pertinent information, to Hindman LLC and we will be happy to provide you with complimentary estimates and advice. If you have a large collection, an appointment may be made to evaluate the property on-site. Fees for on-site visits may vary.

Standard Commission Rates

Our standard rate of commission is equal to ten percent (10%) of the hammer price on each lot sold for $5,001 or more; and twenty-five percent (25%) of the hammer price on each lot sold for less than $5,001, with a minimum commission of $75 per lot sold. If your property fails to reach the reserve price agreed upon between you and Hindman LLC, you may be obligated to pay a reduced commission rate of five percent (5%) of the reserve price.

Shipping Arrangements

Hindman LLC can advise you as to how to have your property delivered to our galleries. Packing, shipping and insurance are payable by the seller. In certain instances, packing and shipping costs may be paid by Hindman LLC and deducted from the proceeds of the sale. We may recommend packers and shippers, but we are not responsible for their acts or omissions.

Appraisals

Appraisals can be arranged for insurance, donation, estate tax, family division or other purposes. Appraisal fees vary according to circumstances. Please contact our Estates and Appraisals Department at 312.334.4232 for further information.

GUIDE FOR PROSPECTIVE BUYERS

Conditions of Sale

All bidders with Hindman LLC must read and agree to Conditions of Sale posted in this catalogue prior to bidding at an auction.

Viewing Auction Items

It is highly recommended that all prospective bidders either view the sale via our online catalogue or contact Hindman LLC for further images or to schedule an appointment to view objects in person.

Estimates

Hindman LLC provides catalogue descriptions and pre-auction estimates for each lot included in the sale. These estimates are a guide for prospective bidders. They are not definitive. All pre-sale estimates are subject to revision.

Condition Reports

We are happy to provide a condition report for lots with a low estimate of $300 and above. Nevertheless, intending buyers are reminded that condition reports are statements of our opinion only, and that each lot is sold “AS IS,” per our Conditions of Sale, as outlined in the back of this catalogue. All lots should be viewed personally by prospective buyers or their agents to evaluate the condition of the property offered for sale due to the highly subjective nature of condition reports.

Bidding at Auction

The highest bidder acknowledged by the auctioneer will be the purchaser. In addition to the hammer price, the buyer agrees to pay Hindman LLC a buyer's premium as well as any applicable taxes.

Bidding Increments

Bidding generally opens at half the low estimate and advances in the following order, although the auctioneer may vary the bidding increments during the course of the auction.

The standard bidding increments are:

$0 - $500	$25
$500 - $1,000	$50
$1,000 - $2,000	$100
$2,000 - $5,000	$250
$5,000 - $10,000	$500
$10,000 - $20,000	$1,000
$20,000 - $50,000	$2,500
$50,000 - $100,000	$5,000
$100,000 - $200,000	$10,000
Above > $200,000 ...	At Auctioneer's Discretion

In-House Bidding

Our auctions are free and open to the public with no obligation for attendees to bid. Registration requires your full contact information, photo identification, credit card information, your signature and agreement to the Conditions of Sale.. If you are the successful bidder, your paddle number and the hammer price will be announced by the auctioneer.

Live Bid Online

Hindman LLC allows absentee and live bidding through our website at hindmanauctions.com as well as absentee and live bidding through third party online bidding providers which vary by sale. For more information regarding online bidding please visit our website at hindmanauctions.com.

Absentee Bidding

If you are unable to attend an auction, you may place an absentee bid, either through our website at hindmanauctions.com or through the bid form provided at the back of this catalogue. An absentee bid is the highest price you are willing to pay exclusive of buyer's premium and applicable sales tax. Hindman LLC will exercise absentee bids at no additional charge. Absentee bids are always confidential, and bids are executed at the lowest price possible by the auctioneer according to reserves and competing bids.

Telephone Bidding

You may register telephone bid requests either through our website at hindmanauctions.com or through the bid form provided at the back of this catalogue. Upon registering for a telephone bid, you will be called on the day of the auction by a Hindman representative approximately five lots before your item is scheduled to be sold. They will communicate to you the bidding activity and will relay your bids to the auctioneer at your discretion. Please note we can only accept telephone bids for lots with a low estimate of $300 or above unless otherwise noted online. Telephone bids may be requested up to 2 hours prior to the auction start time.

HINDMAN | Conditions of Sale

These Conditions of Sale set out the terms upon which Hindman LLC (“we,” “us,” or “our”) sells property by lot in this catalogue. You agree to be bound by these terms by registering to bid and/or by bidding in our auction.

A. BEFORE THE AUCTION

1. LOT DESCRIPTIONS AND WARRANTIES

Our description of a lot, any statement of a lot’s condition, and any other oral or written statement about a lot—such as its nature, condition, artist, period, materials, dimensions, weight, exhibition or publication history, or provenance—are our opinion and shall not be relied upon by you as a statement of fact. Except for the limited authenticity warranty contained in paragraphs E and F below, we do not provide any guarantee of our description or the nature of a lot.

2. CONDITION

The physical condition of lots in our auctions can vary due to age, normal wear and tear, previous damage, and restoration/repair. All lots are sold “AS IS,” in the condition they are in at the time of the auction, and we and the seller make no representation or warranty and assume no liability of any kind as to a lot’s condition. Any reference to condition in a catalogue description or a condition report shall not amount to a full accounting of condition and may not include all faults, inherent defects, restoration, alteration, or adaptation. Likewise, images in our catalogue may not depict a lot accurately, as colors and shades may appear different in print or on screen than on physical inspection. We are not responsible for providing you with a description of a lot’s condition in the catalogue or in a condition report.

3. VIEWING LOTS

We offer pre-auction viewings, either scheduled or by appointment, that are free of charge. If you believe that the catalogue description or condition reports are not sufficient, we suggest you inspect a lot personally or through a knowledgeable representative before you bid on a lot to make sure that you accept the description and its condition. We recommend you hire a professional adviser if you are not familiar with how to address the nature or condition of an object. Hindman has several salerooms throughout the country and the location of sales, or individual items may vary. It is important to check with our website and be aware of where each lot is located, for both viewing and for shipping purposes.

4. ESTIMATES

Estimates of a lot account for the condition, rarity, quality, and provenance of the object and are based upon prices realized for similar objects in past auctions. Neither you nor anyone else may rely on our estimates as a prediction or guarantee of the actual selling price of a lot or its value for any other purpose. Estimates do not include the buyer’s premium, any applicable taxes, and any other applicable charges.

5. WITHDRAWAL

We may, in our sole discretion, withdraw a lot from auction at any time prior to or during the sale and shall have no liability to you for our decision to withdraw.

B. REGISTERING TO BID

1. GENERAL

We reserve the right to reject any bid. By participating in the sale, you represent and warrant that:

- (a) The bidder and/or purchaser is not subject to trade sanctions, embargoes or any other restriction on trade in the jurisdiction in which it does business as well as under the laws and regulations of the United States, and is not owned (nor partly owned) or controlled by such sanctioned person(s) (collectively, “Sanctioned Person(s)”);
- (b) Where you are acting as agent, your principal is not a Sanctioned Person(s) nor owned (or partly owned) or controlled by Sanctioned Person(s); and
- (c) The bidder and/or purchaser undertakes that none of the purchase price will be funded by any Sanctioned Person(s), nor will any party be involved in the transaction including financial institutions, freight forwarders or other forwarding agents or any other party be a Sanctioned Person(s) nor owned (or partly owned) or controlled by a Sanctioned Person(s), unless such activity is authorized in writing by the government authority having jurisdiction over the transaction or in applicable law or regulation.

2. NEW BIDDERS

New bidders must register at least twenty-four (24) hours before an auction and must provide us with documentation of their identity.

- (a) Individuals must provide photo identification (driver’s license, non-driver ID card, or passport) and, if not shown on the photo identification, proof of current address (a current utility bill or bank statement).
- (b) Corporate clients must provide a Certificate of Incorporation or its equivalent bearing the company’s name and registered address, together with documentary proof of directors and beneficial owners. (c) Trusts, partnerships, offshore companies, and other business entities must contact us in advance of the auction to discuss our requirements. If we are not satisfied with the information you provide us in our bidder identification and other registration procedures, we may refuse to register you to bid, and if you make a successful bid, we may cancel the contract for sale between you and the seller. New bidders may be required to provide us with a financial reference and/or a deposit before we allow them to bid.

3. RETURNING BIDDERS

If you have not bought anything from us recently, then we may require you to register as a new bidder, as described in the paragraph above. Please contact us at least twenty-four (24) hours prior to the auction.

4. BIDDING FOR ANOTHER PERSON

If you are bidding as an agent on behalf of another person, your principal must be a registered bidder and must provide us with written authorization allowing you to bid. You, as the agent, shall accept personal liability to pay the purchase price and all other sums due unless we have agreed in writing before the auction that you are acting as an agent on behalf of your principal and that we will only seek payment from your principal.

5. BIDDING IN THE SALEROOM

If you wish to bid in the saleroom, you must first acquire a bidding paddle at least thirty (30) minutes before the auction.

6. OUR BIDDING SERVICES

We offer the following bidding services as a convenience to our clients, subject to these Conditions of Sale. We shall not be responsible for any error, omission, or failure, human or otherwise, in providing these services.

(a) Phone Bids: You must contact us at least twenty-four (24) hours prior to the auction to arrange a phone bid. We will accept bids by telephone for lots only if our staff is available to take the bids. We agree that we may record telephone bids.

(b) Internet Bids: You can bid in our live sales via our bidding platform or through third-party bidding sites.

(c) Written Bids: You can find a Written Bid Form at the auction location, or online at www.hindmanauctions.com. We must receive your completed Written Bid Form at least twenty-four (24) hours before the auction. We will endeavor to execute written bids at the lowest possible price consistent with the reserve. If you make a written bid on a lot that does not have a reserve and there is no higher bid than yours, we will bid on your behalf at approximately fifty percent (50%) of the low estimate or, if lower, the amount of your bid. The first written bid we receive of those for identical amounts will be given priority over other bids.

7. CREDIT CARD AUTHORIZATION HOLD

When you register to bid you may be asked to provide us with a valid credit card number. You authorize us to verify the validity of the credit card by placing a temporary authorization hold on the card that will remain until it falls off, usually within 2 to 7 days.

C. DURING THE AUCTION

1. BIDDING IN THE AUCTION

(a) Live Auctions. We will appoint an individual auctioneer to administer a live auction. The auctioneer may accept bids from (a) written bids left with us by bidders before the auction; (b) bidders in the saleroom; (c) telephone bidders; and (d) Internet bidders, including bidders through third-party bidding sites. Bidding generally starts below the low estimate and increases in steps, called bid increments. The auctioneer will decide at his/her sole option where the bidding should start and the bid increments. Bid increments may vary from auction to auction. You shall comply with all laws and regulations in force that govern your bidding.

(b) Online Auctions. The auctioneer will accept bids from Internet bidders, including bidders through third-party bidding sites. Bidding generally starts below the low estimate and increases in steps, called bid increments. The auctioneer will decide at his/her sole option where the bidding should start and the bid increments. Bid increments may vary from auction to auction. You shall comply with all laws and regulations in force that govern your bidding.

(c) Timed Auctions. Bids may only be submitted on our website between the dates and times specified in the lot’s description. Your bid is submitted once you place and confirm your bid amount. You agree that a bid is final once it is placed and that you may never amend or revoke your bid. You are fully responsible for any errors you make in bidding. Bidding generally opens at or below the low estimate and increases in steps (bidding increments) to be determined in Hindman’s sole discretion.

2. AUCTIONEER'S DISCRETION

The auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to (a) admit a bidder into or remove a bidder from the saleroom or online auction; (b) accept or refuse any bid; (c) change the order of the lots in the auction; (d) move the bidding backward or forward; (e) withdraw any lot from the auction; (f) divide any lot or combine any two or more lots; (g) reopen or continue the bidding even after the hammer has fallen; and (h) continue the bidding, determine the successful bidder, cancel the sale of the lot, or reoffer and resell any lot in the event that there is an error or dispute related to bidding or the application of the reserve, whether during or after the auction. You must provide us with written notice within three (3) business days of the date of the auction if you believe that the auctioneer has accepted the successful bid in error. The auctioneer will consider the claim and decide in good faith if the sale of the lot is final, whether he/she will cancel the sale of the lot, or whether he/she will reoffer and resell the lot. The auctioneer's decision in exercise of this discretion is final. This paragraph does not in any way affect our ability to cancel the sale of a lot under other applicable provisions of these Conditions of Sale, including the rights of cancellation set forth in sections B(1), D(6), E(2), and G(1).

3. BIDDING ON BEHALF OF THE SELLER

The auctioneer may, at his/her sole option, bid on behalf of the seller up to one bidding increment before the reserve by making either consecutive or responsive bids. The auctioneer will not identify these as bids made on behalf of the seller. If a lot is offered without reserve, the auctioneer will open the bidding at a set increment lower than the lot's low estimate and will solicit higher bids from that amount. If there are no bids on a lot, the auctioneer may deem the lot unsold.

4. SUCCESSFUL BIDS AND INVOICES

Subject to paragraph C(2), the contract of sale between the seller and the successful bidder is formed when the final bid is accepted and the auctioneer's hammer strikes. The successful bid price is the hammer price, and we will issue an invoice only to the registered bidder who made the successful bid. While we send out invoices by mail and/or email after the auction, we shall not be responsible for telling you whether your bid was successful. You should contact us immediately after the auction to find out the success of your bid in order to avoid having to pay storage charges. Please note that Hindman will not accept payments for purchased lots from any party other than the purchaser, unless otherwise agreed between the purchaser and Hindman prior to the sale.

D. AFTER THE AUCTION

1. THE BUYER'S PREMIUM

In addition to the hammer price, the successful bidder agrees to pay us a buyer's premium on the hammer price of each lot sold. On all lots, we charge twenty-five percent (25%) of the hammer price up to and including $400,000; twenty percent (20%) of any amount in excess of $400,001 up to and including $4,000,000; and twelve percent (12%) of any amount in excess of $4,000,001. If the bidder bids through a third-party platform the bidder agrees to pay us a surcharge equal to the fee levied by the third-party platform. The third-party platform fee is in addition to the buyer's premium.

2. TAXES

The successful bidder is responsible for any applicable taxes, including any sales or use tax or equivalent tax wherever such taxes may arise on the hammer price, the buyer's premium, and/or any other charges related to the lot. A sales or use tax is dependent upon a number of factors, including, but not limited to, our volume of sale and the place of delivery of the lot, regardless of the nationality or citizenship of the successful bidder. The applicable sales tax rate will be determined based upon the state, county, or locale to which the lot will be shipped or where it is picked-up in person. We collect sales tax in states where legally required.

3. MAKING PAYMENT

- (a) Immediately following the auction, you must pay the purchase price, consisting of the hammer price, plus the buyer's premium, plus any applicable duties and sales, use, or other applicable taxes. Payment is due no later than by the end of the seventh (7th) calendar day following the date of the auction, which we refer to as the due date.
- (b) We will only accept payment from the registered successful bidder. Once issued, we cannot change the buyer's name on an invoice or reissue the invoice in a different name.
- (c) You must pay for lots in US dollars in one of the following ways:
- (i) Wire transfer.
 - (ii) Bank checks: You must make these payable to Hindman LLC, and we may impose other conditions. Once we have deposited your check, property cannot be released until five (5) business days have passed.
 - (iii) Personal checks: You must make these payable to Hindman LLC, and they must be drawn from US dollar accounts from a US bank. The property will not be released until the check has cleared and the funds are received by us.
 - (iv) Credit card: Credit card payments may not exceed $10,000 and a convenience fee of 3% will be added to each credit card payment.

(v) ACH Bank Transfer

(d) You must quote your invoice number when making a payment. All payments sent by post must be sent to Hindman LLC, 1338 West Lake Street, Chicago, IL 60607, ATTN: Client Accounting Department.

4. TRANSFERRING OWNERSHIP TO YOU

You will not own the lot and title will not pass to you until we have received full payment in good funds of the purchase price, even in circumstances where we have released the lot to you.

5. TRANSFERRING RISK TO YOU

Unless we have agreed otherwise with you, the risk in and responsibility for the lot will transfer to you from whichever is the earlier of the following: (a) when you collect the lot; or (b) the end of the thirtieth (30th) day following the date of the auction or, if earlier, the date the lot is taken into care by a third-party warehouse.

6. YOUR FAILURE TO PAY

If you fail to pay us the purchase price in full in good funds by the due date, we will be entitled to do one or more of the following (as well as enforce any other rights and remedies we have by law) at our sole discretion:

- (a) We can charge interest from the due date at a rate of up to one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid amount due.
- (b) We can cancel the sale of the lot and sell the lot again, publicly or privately, on such terms as we believe appropriate, in which case you must pay us any shortfall between the amount you owe us and the resale price, plus all costs, expenses, losses, damages, and legal fees we incur due to the cancellation.
- (c) We can pay the seller the amount due to them, in which case you acknowledge and understand that we will have all the seller's rights to pursue you for such amount.
- (d) We can hold you legally responsible for the amount you owe us and bring legal proceedings against you to recover the amount owed by you, plus other losses, interest, legal fees, and costs as allowed by law.
- (e) We can reveal your identity and contact details to the seller.
- (f) We can reject any bids made by or on behalf of you in future auctions or require you to provide us with a deposit before accepting any bids.
- (g) We can exercise all the rights and remedies of a person holding security over any property in our possession owned by you, whether by way of pledge, security interest, or in any other way as permitted by the law of the place where such property is located. You will be deemed to have granted such security to us and we may retain such property as collateral security for your obligations to us.
- (h) We can take any other action we deem necessary or appropriate.

7. SHIPPING, COLLECTION, AND STORAGE

- (a) You must collect purchased lots within thirty (30) days of the auction. We can assist in making shipping arrangements by suggesting art handlers, packers, transporters, or experts, but you must arrange all transport and shipping with them, and we are not responsible for their acts, failure to act, or neglect. Hindman has several salerooms throughout the country and the location of sales, or individual items may vary. It is important to check with our website and be aware of where each lot is located, for both viewing and for shipping.
- (b) If you do not collect any purchased lot within thirty (30) days following the auction, we may, at our sole option, (i) charge you storage and insurance costs; (ii) move the lot to another Hindman location or to a third-party warehouse, whereupon we will charge you transport costs, insurance costs, and administration fees for doing so, and you will be subject to the third-party storage warehouse's standard terms and responsible for paying its standard fees and costs; or (iii) sell the lot in any commercially reasonable way we think appropriate.
- (c) In accordance with applicable state law, if you have paid for the lot in full but you do not collect the lot within the time specified by the law of the state where the auction takes place, we may charge you state sales tax for the lot.
- (d) Nothing in this paragraph is intended to limit our rights under paragraph D(6).

8. EXPORTING, IMPORTING, AND ENDANGERED SPECIES

- (a) The shipping of a lot is affected by United States export laws or the import laws of other countries. If you are outside the United States, then local laws may prevent you from importing a lot. You alone are responsible for seeking advice prior to bidding and meeting the requirements of any law or regulation applying to the export or import of a lot.
- (b) Lots made of or including (regardless of the percentage) endangered and other protected species of wildlife—such as, among other things, ivory, tortoiseshell, crocodile skin, rhinoceros horn, whalebone, certain species of coral, and Brazilian rosewood—may be subject to export controls in the US and import controls in other countries. You should check the relevant wildlife laws and regulations before bidding on any lot containing wildlife material if you plan to export the lot from the United States, import the lot into another country, or ship the lot between states. Your purchase of a lot containing endangered and other protected species of wildlife is at your own risk, and you shall be responsible for any scientific test or other reports required for export from the United States or for shipment between states. We will not cancel your purchase and refund the purchase price if your lot may not be exported, imported, or shipped between states, or if it is seized for any reason by a government authority. It is your responsibility to determine and satisfy the requirements of any applicable laws or regulations relating to import, export, and/or interstate shipping of a lot containing endangered and other protected species of wildlife.

E. WARRANTIES

1. SELLER'S WARRANTIES

For each lot, the seller gives a warranty that the seller (a) is the owner of the lot or a joint owner of the lot acting with the permission of the other co-owners or, if the seller is not the owner or a joint owner of the lot, has the permission of the owner to sell the lot or the right to do so by law; and (b) has the right to transfer ownership of the lot to the buyer without any restrictions or claims by anyone else. If either of the above warranties are incorrect, the seller shall not have to pay more than the purchase price (as defined in paragraph D(3) above) paid by you to us. The seller will not be responsible to you for any reason for loss of profits or business, expected savings, loss of opportunity or interest, costs, damages, other damages, or expenses. The seller gives no warranty other than as set out above, and as far as the seller is allowed by law, all warranties from the seller to you, and all other obligations upon the seller that may be added to this agreement by law, are excluded. No employee or agent of Hindman is authorized to make a representation or provide other information, whether orally or in writing, that amends the seller's warranties or creates an additional warranty on behalf of the seller with respect to a lot. Any such representation, other information, or additional warranty shall be null and void.

2. OUR LIMITED AUTHENTICITY WARRANTY

Our limited authenticity warranty, which lasts for one (1) year from the date of a live auction or three (3) months from an online only auction, is that the lots in our sales are authentic as defined in paragraph H, below. You must notify Hindman regarding concerns of authenticity in writing within one (1) year of the date of a live auction or within three (3) months of the date of an online only auction. Following receipt of that written notification, subject to the terms below, Hindman will refund the purchase price paid by the client. The terms of this limited authenticity warranty are as follows:

- (a) It will be honored for claims notified in writing within a period of one (1) year from the date of a live auction or three (3) months from an online only auction. After such time, we will not be obligated to honor the limited authenticity warranty.
- (b) It is given only for information shown in UPPERCASE type in the first line of the catalogue description (the Heading). It does not apply to any information other than that in the Heading, even if it is shown in UPPERCASE type.
- (c) It does not apply to any Heading or part of a Heading that is qualified. "Qualified" means limited by a clarification in a lot's catalogue description or by the use in a Heading of one of the terms listed in the definition of "qualified" provided in paragraph H, below. Qualified Headings are not covered at all by this limited authenticity warranty.
- (d) It applies to the Heading as amended by any saleroom notice.
- (e) It does not apply where scholarship has developed since the auction, leading to a change in generally accepted opinion. Further, it does not apply if the Heading either matched the generally accepted opinion of experts at the date of the auction or drew attention to any conflict of opinion.
- (f) It does not apply if the lot can only be shown not to be authentic by a scientific process that, on the date we published the catalogue, was not available or generally accepted for use, was unreasonably expensive or impractical, or was likely to have damaged the lot.
- (g) Its benefit is only available to the original buyer shown on the invoice for the lot, issued at the time of the sale, and only if, on the date of the notice of claim, the original buyer is the full owner of the lot and the lot is free from any claim, interest, or restriction by anyone else. The benefit of this limited authenticity warranty may not be transferred by the original buyer to anyone else.
- (h) In order to make a claim under the limited authenticity warranty, you must
- (i) give us written notice of your claim within one (1) year of the date of a live auction or three (3) months from an online only auction ; (ii) at our option, pay for and provide us with the written opinions of two recognized experts in the field, mutually agreed upon by you and us, confirming that the lot is not authentic (we reserve the right to obtain additional opinions at our expense); and (iii) return the lot at your expense to the saleroom from which you bought it in the condition it was in at the time of sale.
- (i) Your only right under this limited authenticity warranty is to cancel the sale and receive a refund of the purchase price paid by you to us. We will not, under any circumstances, be required to pay you more than the purchase price, nor will we be liable for any loss of profits or business, loss of opportunity or value, expected savings or interest, costs, damages, other damages, or expenses.
- (j) No employee or agent of Hindman is authorized to make a representation or provide additional information, whether orally or in writing, that amends the limited authenticity warranty or creates an additional warranty with respect to a lot. Any such representation, other information, or additional warranty shall be null and void.

3. ADDITIONAL WARRANTY FOR BOOKS

If the lot is a book, then we give an additional warranty to the original buyer shown on the invoice for the lot issued at the time of the sale in the following circumstances:

- (a) We will refund the purchase price to the original buyer if we, in our sole discretion, are convinced that the book is defective in text or illustration, subject to the following terms:
 - (i) This additional warranty does not apply to (A) the absence of blanks, half titles, tissue guards, or advertisements; or damage in respect of bindings, stains, spotting, marginal tears, or other defects not affecting the completeness of the text or illustration; (B) drawings, autographs, letters or manuscripts, signed photographs, music, atlases, maps, or periodicals; (C) books not identified by title; (D) lots sold without a printed estimate; (E) books that are described in the catalog as sold not subject to return; or (F) defects stated in any condition report or announced at the time of sale.
 - (ii) To make a claim under this additional warranty, you must give written details of the defect within twenty-one (21) days of the date of the sale and return the lot within twenty-one (21) days of the date of the sale to the saleroom at which you bought it in the same condition as at the time of sale.
 - (iii) Paragraphs E(2)(b), (c), (d), (e), (h), and (i) also apply to a claim under this additional warranty. (c) No employee or agent of Hindman is authorized to make a representation or provide other information, whether orally or in writing, that amends the additional warranty for books or creates an additional warranty with respect to a lot. Any such representation, other information, or additional warranty shall be null and void.

4. JEWELRY

- (a) Colored gemstones (such as rubies, sapphires, and emeralds) may have been treated to improve their appearance through methods such as heating and/or various clarity enhancements. These methods are considered common by the international jewelry trade but may make a gemstone more fragile and/or cause the gemstone to require special care over time.
 - (b) All types of gemstones may have been improved by some method. You may request a gemological report for any item that does not have a report if the request is made to us at least three (3) weeks before the date of the auction and you pay the fee for the report.
 - (c) We do not obtain a gemological report for every gemstone sold in our auctions. When we do get gemological reports from internationally accepted gemological laboratories, such reports are described in the catalogue. Reports from American gemological laboratories describe any improvement or treatment to the gemstone. Reports from European gemological laboratories describe any improvement or treatment only if we request that they do so, but they do confirm when no improvement or treatment has been made. Because of differences in approach and technology, laboratories may not agree on whether a gemstone has been treated, the amount of treatment, or whether that treatment is permanent. The gemological laboratories only report on the improvements or treatments known to them at the date they make the report.
 - (d) For jewelry sales, estimates are based on the information in any gemological report. If no report is available, assume that the gemstones may have been treated or enhanced.

5. WATCHES AND CLOCKS

- (a) Almost all clocks and watches are repaired in their lifetime and may include parts that are not original. We do not give a warranty that any individual component part of any watch is authentic. Watchbands described as "associated" are not part of the original watch and may not be authentic. Clocks may be sold without pendulums, weights, or keys.
- (b) As collectors' watches often have very fine and complex mechanisms, you are responsible for any general service, change of battery, or further repair work that may be necessary. We do not give a warranty that any watch is in good working order. Certificates are not available unless described in the catalogue.
- (c) Most wristwatches have been opened to find out the type and quality of movement. For that reason, wristwatches with water-resistant cases may not be waterproof, and we recommend you have them checked by a competent watchmaker before use.
- (d) Many of the watches offered for sale in this catalogue are pictured with straps made of endangered or protected animal materials such as alligator or crocodile skin. When straps are shown for display purposes only and are not for sale. We may remove and retain the strap prior to shipment from the sale site. Please check with the department for details on a lot with such a strap.

6. YOUR WARRANTIES

You warrant to us and the seller that (a) the funds you use for payment are not connected with any criminal activity, including tax evasion, and neither are you under investigation, nor have you been charged with or convicted of money laundering, terrorist activities, or other crimes; (b) where you are bidding on behalf of another person, (i) you have conducted appropriate customer due diligence on the ultimate buyer(s) of the lot(s) in accordance with all applicable anti-money laundering and sanctions laws, you consent to us relying on this due diligence, you will retain for a period of not less than five (5) years the documentation evidencing the due diligence, and you will make such documentation promptly available for immediate inspection by an independent third-party auditor upon our written request to do so; (ii) the arrangements between you and the ultimate buyer(s) in relation to the lot or otherwise do not, in whole or in part, facilitate tax crimes; (iii) you do not know, and have no reason to suspect, that the funds used for payment are connected with or the proceeds of any criminal activity, including tax evasion, or that the ultimate buyer(s) are under investigation for, or have been charged with or convicted of, money laundering, terrorist activities, or other crimes.

F. OUR LIABILITY TO YOU

(a) We give no warranty in relation to any statement made, or information given, by us or our representatives or employees about any lot other than as set out in the limited authenticity warranty or in the additional warranty for books, and as far as we are allowed by law, all warranties and other terms that may be added to this agreement by law are excluded. The seller's warranties contained in paragraph E(1) are their own, and we do not have any liability to you in relation to those warranties.

(b) We are not responsible to you for any reason (whether for breaking this agreement or for any other matter relating to your purchase of, or bid for, any lot) other than in the event of fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation by us, or other than as expressly set out in these Conditions of Sale.

(c) WE DO NOT GIVE ANY REPRESENTATION, WARRANTY, OR GUARANTEE OR ASSUME ANY LIABILITY OF ANY KIND IN RESPECT OF ANY LOT WITH REGARD TO MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, DESCRIPTION, SIZE, QUALITY, CONDITION, ATTRIBUTION, AUTHENTICITY, RARITY, IMPORTANCE, MEDIUM, PROVENANCE, EXHIBITION HISTORY, LITERATURE, OR HISTORICAL RELEVANCE. EXCEPT AS REQUIRED BY LOCAL LAW, ANY WARRANTY OF ANY KIND IS EXCLUDED BY THIS PARAGRAPH.

(d) Our written and telephone bidding services, online bidding services, and condition reports are free services, and we are not responsible to you for any error, omission, or failure of these services.

(e) We have no responsibility to any person other than a buyer in connection with the purchase of any lot.

(f) If, despite the terms in paragraphs F(a)–(e) or E(2)–(3) above, we are found to be liable to you for any reason, we shall not have to pay more than the purchase price paid by you to us. We will not be responsible to you for any reason for loss of profits or business, loss of opportunity or value, expected savings or interest, costs, damages, or expenses.

G. OTHER TERMS

1. OUR ABILITY TO CANCEL

In addition to the other rights of cancellation contained herein, we can cancel a sale of a lot if (i) any of your warranties in paragraph E(4) are not correct; (ii) we reasonably believe that completing the transaction is, or may be, unlawful; or (iii) we reasonably believe that the sale places us or the seller under any liability to anyone else or may damage our reputation.

2. RECORDINGS

We may videotape and/or audio record proceedings at any auction. We will keep any personal information confidential, except to the extent that disclosure is required by law. If you do not want to be videotaped, you may decide to make a telephone or written bid or bid online instead. Unless we agree otherwise in writing, you may not videotape or record proceedings at any auction.

3. COPYRIGHT

We own the copyright in all images, illustrations, and written material produced by or for us relating to a lot, including the contents of our catalogues, unless otherwise noted therein. You cannot use them without our prior written permission. We make no representation and offer no guarantee that the buyer of a lot will gain any copyright or other reproduction rights.

4. ENFORCING THIS AGREEMENT

If a court finds that any part of this agreement is invalid, illegal, or impossible to enforce, that part of the agreement will be treated as being deleted, and the rest of this agreement will not be affected.

5. TRANSFERRING YOUR RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

You may not grant a security over or transfer your rights or responsibilities under these terms unless we have given our written permission. This agreement will be binding on your successors or estate and anyone who takes over your rights and responsibilities.

6. PERSONAL INFORMATION

We will hold and process your personal information in line with our privacy policy at www.hindmanauctions.com.

7. WAIVER

No failure or delay to exercise any right or remedy contained herein shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right or remedy, nor shall it prevent or restrict the further exercise of that or any other right or remedy. No single or partial exercise of such right or remedy shall prevent or restrict the further exercise of that or any other right or remedy.

8. LAW AND DISPUTES

This agreement, and any noncontractual obligations arising out of or in connection with this agreement, or any other rights you may have relating to the purchase of a lot will be governed by the laws of Illinois. You and we agree to try to settle the dispute by mediation submitted to JAMS, or its successor, for mediation in Illinois. If the dispute is not settled by mediation within sixty (60) days from the date when mediation is initiated, then the dispute shall be submitted to JAMS, or its successor, for final and binding arbitration in accordance with its Comprehensive Arbitration Rules and Procedures or, if the dispute involves a non-US party, the JAMS International Arbitration Rules. The seat of the arbitration shall be Illinois, and the arbitration shall be conducted by one arbitrator, who shall be appointed within thirty (30) days after the initiation of the arbitration. The language used in the arbitral proceedings shall be English. The arbitrator shall order the production of documents only upon a showing that such documents are relevant and material to the outcome of the dispute. The arbitration shall be confidential, except to the extent necessary to enforce a judgment or where disclosure is required by law. The arbitration award shall be final and binding on all parties involved. Judgment upon the award may be entered by any court having jurisdiction thereof or having jurisdiction over the relevant party or its assets. This arbitration and any proceedings conducted hereunder shall be governed by Title 9 (Arbitration) of the United States Code and by the United Nations Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards of June 10, 1958.

H. GLOSSARY

authentic: a genuine example, rather than a copy or forgery of (a) the work of a particular artist, author, or manufacturer, if the lot is described in the Heading as the work of that artist, author, or manufacturer; (b) a work created within a particular period or culture, if the lot is described in the Heading as a work created during that period or culture; (c) a work of a particular origin or source, if the lot is described in the Heading as being of that origin or source; or (d) in the case of gems, a work that is made of a particular material, if the lot is described in the Heading as being made of that material.

buyer's premium: the charge the buyer pays us along with the hammer price.

catalogue description: the description of a lot in the catalogue for the auction, as amended by any saleroom notice.

due date: has the meaning given to it in paragraph D(3)(a).

estimate: the price range included in the catalogue or any saleroom notice within which we believe a lot may sell. Low estimate means the lower figure in the range, and high estimate means the higher figure. The mid estimate is the midpoint between the two.

hammer price: the amount of the highest bid the auctioneer accepts for the sale of a lot.

Heading: has the meaning given to it in paragraph E(2).

limited authenticity warranty: the guarantee we give in paragraph E(2) that a lot is authentic.

other damages: any special, consequential, incidental, or indirect damages of any kind or any damages that fall within the meaning of "special," "incidental," or "consequential" under local law.

purchase price: has the meaning given to it in paragraph D(3)(a).

provenance: the ownership history of a lot.

qualified: has the meaning given to it in paragraph E(2), subject to the following terms:

(a) "Cast from a model by" means, in our opinion, a work from the artist's model, originating in his circle and cast during his lifetime or shortly thereafter.

(b) "Attributed to" means, in our opinion, a work probably by the artist.

(c) "In the style of" means, in our opinion, a work of the period of the artist and closely related to his style.

(d) "Ascribed to" means, in our opinion, a work traditionally regarded as by the artist.

(e) "In the manner of" means, in our opinion, a later imitation of the period, of the style, or of the artist's work.

(f) "After" means, in our opinion, a copy or after-cast of a work of the artist.

reserve: the confidential amount below which we will not sell a lot.

saleroom notice: a written notice posted next to the lot in the saleroom and on www.hindmanauctions.com, which is also read to prospective telephone bidders and provided to clients who have left commission bids, or an announcement made by the auctioneer either at the beginning of the sale or before a particular lot is auctioned.

UPPERCASE type: type having all capital letters.

warranty: a statement or representation in which the person making it guarantees that the facts set out in it are correct.
